Ike, Adlai Debate Middle East Eisenhower Believes Nation Has Chosen 'Path of Honor'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Thursday night his administration has chosen "a path of honor" in the Middle East crisis by refusing to "condone armed aggression."

And he told an overflow crowd in Philadelphia's 16,000-seat Convention Hall that because he is convinced he picked the right path he is "undisturbed by the strident voices of those few who seem to be seeking to turn world events to political profit."

Speaking also to a nationwide television-radio audience, that was as close as Eisenhower came to replying to sharp criticism which Adlai E. Stevenson has been hurling at him regarding the Middle East situation.

It was Eisenhower's last major speech of the campaign and he did fire back at Stevenson once again on two other issues, without naming his Democratic rival. He said his opponent is advocating "a design for disaster" in these times

Eden Silent On Compliance To U.N. Demand

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden refused today to give an immediate decision on a U. N. call for a cease-fire in the Middle East, and the Labor party warned that unofficial strikes may sweep the country unless he speaks out soon.

Eden told the House of Commons he had not yet had time to receive, much less study, the proceedings of the U. N. General Assembly in New York.

Britain's Labor leaders, in both the political and trade union branches of the movement, have stressed that labor will not approve "industrial action" as a weapon against Eden's policies.

The party, however, is attempting to organize a mass popular protest of "law—not war."

Eden's refusal to commit himself at once on the U. N. actions touched off another angry scene in the House of Commons—the second in as many days—with Laborites demanding he "resign."

Anneurin Bevan, speaking as one of labor's recognized leaders, told Eden:

"THE VAST majority of the U. N. Assembly has condemned our action in being at war. It is going to be extremely difficult for many of us to restrain action in the country. Will not the government help us a bit?"

"If Parliament as a forum of popular expression is to be denied an opportunity of considering this grave matter, what answer have we got for people outside?"

Eden was under mounting pressure to find a face-saving way out of the hostilities.

After bitter debate in the House of Commons, Eden won four votes of confidence on the government's action in the Middle East. But the voting — ranging from 324-255 to 320-253 — was on strict party lines, and London newspapers estimated that at least 30 of the prime minister's own Conservative followers in the House felt he made a mistake in acting outside the United Nations.

The 76-nation U. N. Assembly, early today adopted a resolution introduced by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, urging that Israel pull her forces out of Egypt and that Britain and France not move theirs in.

Weary from an all-night meeting, delegates expressed doubt prior.

Apparently it was a turnip which had grown on top of a turnip, but upon close examination I found that a vine had grown about it, and exerted such pressure that the turnip had been forced into growing as if a second turnip had formed underneath the main one.

Nixon Scheduled For Radio Address

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Vice President Nixon carried the ball for the Republicans in a whistle-stop tour of Pennsylvania today after lauding President Eisenhower for "his handling of the Middle East crisis."

The nonoperating group includes the clerks, track crews, shop employees and others who maintain and operate the rail system, not the moving trains. They had sought a 25-cent wage hike.

Still in mediation are disputes reflecting some 200,000 operating railmen—the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Hubcap Thief Fined, Jailed

Highland Countian Sentenced Here

Richard Snyder, 24, of Highland County, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 9 days in jail in Municipal Court Friday morning on his plea of guilty to unlawfully removing hubcaps, valued at $40, from a car owned by Harold Thompson, who filed the affidavit. Sixty days of the jail sentence were suspended by Judge Max G. Dice on condition that Snyder stay out of trouble in the future.

Snyder was arrested by Sheriff Orland Hays when he was released last week from jail at Hillsboro after completing sentence for a similar offense in Highland County.

Five Highland County teen-agers, arrested with Snyder, were placed on probation.

AFTER the six were questioned in Hillsboro by Deputy Sheriffs Don Thompson and Charles Hays and Washington C. H. Patrolman Hershel Taylor, both Sheriff Hays and Police Chief Vaden Long expressed the belief that their arrest had broken up a hubcap stealing ring that has been operating in Highland, Fayette and Ross counties for about two months.

Hays and Long said that, while some of the hubcaps and other parts had been taken from cars in Washington C. H., most of the thefts occurred in the county just outside the city limits.

Funeral Rites Held For Earl Cummings

Services for Earl Cummings, 66, who died Wednesday in his home on Lewis Pike, were held at 1 p.m. Friday in the Parrett Funeral Home. The Rev. Charles W. Ware, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, was in charge. Pallbearers were Daniel and Fred Woods, Ralph and John Cummings, Charles Farmer and Robert Campbell. Burial was in Washington Cemetery.

Israeli Victory

THE GAZA territory, a 25 by 8 mile finger of land separating the southern end of Israel from the Mediterranean, has long been a center of Israeli-Egyptian border troubles. Elimination of Fedayeen (commando) bases in the area was one of Israel's objectives in its thrust into Egypt Monday.

The British Air Ministry in London said Royal Air Force heavy and medium bombers were keeping up their nonstop strikes against the Egyptian air bases today.

"None of our aircraft has been reported missing," a British spokesman said.

Nasser hinted that the main body of Egypt's forces in the Sinai were being pulled back to defend the Suez Canal and the Nile Delta.

The French Defense Ministry said 105 Egyptian planes had either been destroyed or made unusable. By one unofficial estimate, this was about a fourth of the Egyptian air force.

The Israeli Embassy in Washington estimated Egyptian casualties (killed, wounded and captured) at 5,000. "Israeli casualties are relatively light," it added, "including less than 100 killed."

Egypt stepped up a guerrilla campaign. Israel said a large number of Fedayeen entered Israel's Negev desert Thursday night, blowing up a number of vehicles and irrigation pipes.

British and French naval units were reported closing in on both ends of the Suez Canal.

The two nations said they would occupy the canal points of Port Said, Suez and Ismailia, but insisted their occupation would be only temporary.

U. S. Business Puzzled by Middle East

Real War or Peace Could Upset Plans Made by Economists

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen and stock traders are just as puzzled today as you may be as to who is doing what to whom in the Middle East.

But they are aware that a real war will upset many of their laid plans.

And so would a real peace—supposing that the goings on in Eastern Europe might signal an end to the role of bogeyman that Russia has played for 10 years, and that the Suez Canal affair might end in effecting a settlement of the long smoldering strife in the Middle East.

They are aware that a real war will upset many of their laid plans.

American business plans for some time have been built to fit an economy supporting an expensive defense program and an economy using to the hilt all the resources of manpower and materials in civilian pursuits with little leeway for a military emergency.

Initial reactions to the threat of war in the Middle East follow the traditional pattern. Commodity prices rose—traders feared supplies of such things as rubber, tin and other metals might be cut off. And, besides, a war coming on top of an economy running at full throttle would double and triple the threat of further inflation.

War risk insurance rates on shipments to the Middle East went up five to seven times. Shipping companies and airlines began diverting their cargo carriers, tankers and planes from the Suez Canal, even before it was blocked.

Oilmen's plans to supply Europe from the Western Hemisphere if Middle East oil was cut off went into abeyance for a time when Washington canceled a meeting of the Middle East Emergency Committee (a group of American oil experts) until the stand of the United States in the crisis was clarified.

On the other hand, to ease a critical tanker shortage, the Maritime Administration is planning to sell 6 tankers.

Some 800,000 barrels of oil a day have been going through the Suez to Europe and some 350,000 more coming by that route to the U.S. East Coast. While the canal is blocked, tankers will have to carry the oil around Africa or make up for it by carrying American and Venezuelan oil to Europe.

A tanker shortage will be the chief stumbling block—there's plenty of oil in this hemisphere for all.

Readers' Views on Schools, Water Service

EDITOR, RECORD - HERALD: There have been thousands of dollars spent by the Hilt - Miami Trace faction and by the RPA to bring before the voters of Fayette County two ideas: "We know all we need to know; give us the money", and "Clean the slate, account for the money spent, get the best advice before any building is done."

There is one point of agreement, as stated in the newspaper last (Wednesday) night by Paul Shepard. "Where do we stand in education? Near the bottom." Then why follow the very people who have led us to that position?

More than enough money has been spent by either side and more than enough time to have had the best of surveys. We have thrown away at least two years of our children's education time in the squabbling of adults. What has Miami Trace to gain by spending the money and the time without permitting a survey?

The great emotional strife that has existed in the rural schools has done untold damage to the children. They have had reason to lose respect and no building can be a successful school when that condition exists. Many children have dropped out of school because it was apparent to them that the adults were not sufficiently interested in them to provide the courses they needed.

One thing is certain: No teacher, no parent, no one is able to fool a child. If we don't build straight-thinking, sound citizenship in our children by the example of our own daily living, we will never be able to do it with a fancy building. We must look into our own conduct, we must know that the slate is clean, before any money is squandered on a building. Too many adults in this community have set themselves above the cause of the education of children. We have lost sight of the goal. As school administrators, parents, board members, and citizens, we have not met our obligation to the children of Fayette County.

I've never understood how we could brag about Fayette County being rich when so many of our children do not have sanitary facilities in the school buildings. That condition is inexcusable. Our greatest wealth is our children, not our land.)

We should build first within ourselves an attitude of cooperation and sound thinking before we try to bribe our children with a new building. I'm not a preacher, as you all know, but I believe we need more Christianity in our adult population before any building is planned. We haven't learned to live together.

A true story interested us in Iran, but the story has been repeated in many countries. (See bulletin, Technical Cooperation in Education, International Cooperation Administration, Washington 25, D. C.)

Last year 73 tribal schools for children of nomadic tribes were set up in tents and moved as the tribes migrated. Imagine a school in a black goat's - hair tent which moves when the tribe breaks camp in the morning, sets up for lunch at noon, moves during the afternoon, and establishes itself again.

The various consolidations have along a stream in the evening. After seven months of schooling, all children passed the first grade examination, a large number passed the second grade tests, and some even passed the third grade. In seven months where there had never been school before! The tribal chieftains were so enthusiastic that they insisted upon eight hours of school a day seven days a week. Now educators are trying to find out why the children who attended school under such circumstances learned faster than those who went to regular school buildings.

Do we need inspiration and leadership or building?

JEAN RHODE

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

Let me tip my hat to Angie Osborne about the water situation. I think she is entirely right. If the taxpayer has to put his own water lines in and then keep them repaired, how is that the Ohio Water Service Co. can charge them a high and ridiculous price for the water. Any other cities the water service is only a fraction to what it is in this city. Not only that, but they also take care of any leaks or repairs on their side of the meter.

It seems in my case the more we tried to conserve on water the higher the bills went. One month in particular we were gone on vacation 10 days out of the month and the bill was higher than the previous month. Now does the Ohio Water Service Co. account for that?

It seems to me something should be done about the type of service we are getting. Don't get me wrong, I don't mind paying, but I'd like to get what I'm paying for.

After all the Water Service has everything to gain and hardly anything to lose. They don't have any repairs to make because we, the people of Washington, have to do that.

I can fully understand that they have to have more for their service because of the new water system, but 35 per cent who of us could ask that much of a raise from our employer?

I know the Public Utilities Commission granted them the raise. But the P.U.C.O. doesn't have to pay it either.

So I'm hoping that something can be done about this situation.

I suppose after the Ohio Water Service Co. reads this, I can look forward to much higher bills.

Again I repeat Mrs. Osborne, you are entirely right.

EDITOR, RECORD - HERALD:

First let us review the history of what has been done to strengthen, unify and solidify our school district and why. In rural Fayette County there were formerly 11 local districts. Changes in the School Foundation Law which provided for the 30 pupil classroom basis instead of on a tuition basis, made it mandatory for each district to have its own high school. Obviously small districts could not provide these facilities economically, so consolidation was in order.

The opposition to the Miami

Trace District rather strongly advocates a new Citizens Committee

now become the Miami Trace Local School District, which includes nearly all of rural Fayette County. What was lost in these mergers? We must all agree that the control of the school district is now spread over a wider area so that even though the board is composed of five able, honest and sincere men, still the closeness we once felt is somewhat removed. Remember that we also have the county board which means there are 10 men actually representing the people of the district; also the County Board has kept the district intact. Now what would further consolidation, namely with Washington C. H. mean? Local control would then slip farther from our touch — to just five members from the entire city and county. Surely those of you who had children in school before the consolidations can understand what I mean.

What has been gained by these mergers? We now have a school district which is large enough and wealthy enough to provide an educational program for our children which could be second to none in the State of Ohio. What we need so desperately now is a new high school — fully accredited, Class A. This can be a realization within two years and not be a lifetime burden on anyone. Such a plan is now being submitted to us for our sanction.

Has this plan been studied carefully? Is it one we can be proud of in years to come? Is it the most economical method for a solution? Quite a few of our friends, neighbors and former board members have spent countless hours gathering information and studying various plans and alternatives. Several experts and top men in the State Department of Education have also been consulted and have given their advice and suggestions. Thus has been brought to us a plan designed to give our children the opportunity to attend a high school which will offer quite an ample selection of curricula — from vocational agriculture and economics to the sciences.

Also extra-curricular activities such as sports, music, etc., have been amply provided for. The building is also designed for adequate expansion for years to come. Should further consolidation be necessary some time in the future, this proposed high school's so planned that with only the addition of small inexpensive academic classrooms the capacity could be expanded from the present 900 to 1,600 or even 1,800 students. This is just another example of the far sighted and thorough planning which this entire program offers.

The opposition to the Miami Trace District rather strongly advocates a new Citizens Committee

Quite a lot of comment has come from the RPA concerning the upgrading of tax valuations, inferring that such increases would also increase the cost of the bond issue to you. This can never be true. A bond issue votes a certain amount of money. In other words — a specific amount of money must be raised each year.

Now the county auditor again estimates the millage required to meet these obligations and simple arithmetic tells us that with an increased valuation less millage is required. In simple language — as the tax valuations go up the required millage goes down. The dollar paid by you remains the same.

Next the RPA asks — could not the problem be solved with less expense to you if the tax base were broadened to the $60,000,000. Of the city and county? The tax base would be larger but definitely not broader. Actually the only way to arrive at the true wealth of a district is to figure the tax valuation in relation to the number of students. In other words, Miami Trace's $40,000,000 dollar tax base with approximately 2,800 pupils is far broader than $60,000,000 with approximately 5,000 pupils. Each pupil in Miami Trace is backed by about $14,000 while in the Washington City District each pupil is backed by about $9,000. Therefore a consolidation of two districts would mean that each pupil would be backed by about $12,000 or $2,000 less than at present for Miami Trace.

Can you honestly say that the views and ideas of the teenagers of Washington are any different from the views and ideas of Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville youths. All children cannot attend the same school no matter where they live and therein lies the only degree of segregation anticipated by Miami Trace. Education always has been and is now a district responsibility. Ohio has more than 1,100 school districts.

As to the curriculum which will be offered, let us be aware that at the present time 62 different subjects — six complete courses — are offered at Jeffersonville. Incidentally, Jeffersonville High School is the only high school in this area offering both vocational agriculture and vocational home economics. Surely no thing less than this will be available in the new high school.

Is the cost of this proposal a fair and conservative one? We believe that the total cost of $1,652,500 which the county auditor has estimated can be retired in 21 years by an average millage of 2.58 mills will work no hardships. The RPA keeps insisting that 2.58 mills will not retire the bonds and interest on $1,652,500. Again we can only say this millage was estimated by the county auditor and surely one in such a position knows whereof he speaks.

In conclusion — you know where the new building will be built — at the Eber crossroads. You know what it will look like — just like the model. You know what it will cost — $1,652,500. Now we ask that you have faith in your duly elected board members — hope in the future of our community through sound education of our children and charity toward those who are honestly opposed to the offering. But above all vote FOR the Bond Issue.

Big Cleveland Newspapers Shut by Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — This city's three large daily newspapers, which serve a population of well over a million, were shut down today.

Radio and television stations have expanded greatly the number and length of their newscasts.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, a morning newspaper, was "discontinued" until further notice by Forest City Publishing Co. Thursday night. The same company had discontinued its afternoon newspaper, the Cleveland News, late Thursday afternoon.

The Cleveland Press, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, stopped publishing because of a strike which began at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, called by the Press unit of the Cleveland Newspaper Guild.

The principal issue in an unsuccessful attempt to reach a new contract was a union demand for wage increases. Guild contracts at all three papers expired Wednesday night.

Shortly before the Press was struck, a mediator reported management had offered wage increases ranging from $3 to $6 this year and $2.55 and $4.50 next year.

Originally the guild's demands included wage increases of 22½ per cent, an increase in the minimum pay of experienced newsmen from $122.50 a week to $145 a week; and contract changes covering job security, union security and several fringe benefits. Later it reduced the demands to wage increases of $5 to $7.50 this year.

This leaves the four high school centers — Good Hope, Madison Mills, Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville. These are the schools which will benefit most if a new high school becomes a reality. However, first of all the over-crowding will be eliminated. Then these schools will have their own auditoriums and gymnasiums which very few elementary schools are fortunate enough to have. So you see, everyone gains — not in the same way but all will share in a broadened and more efficient educational program.

In conclusion — you know where

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Mabel Russell's description of a race horse in which she said she bought a half interest brought her $750 default judgment in common pleas court Thursday.

The horse's name was Beech Line. She said she was told by Russell E. Thom as, defendant in the suit, it was so classy it "could win on only three legs."

"Did the horse ever run?" asked Judge Simon L. Leis.

"The first time out he ran fast; he fell down," Mrs. Russell replied, adding:

plus $4 and $5 next year, and a minimum for experienced news-men of $135.

At the Press the build represents about 400 editorial and commercial employees. At Forest City the bargaining unit includes about 300.

The second time out he would have been last, but the other horse fell down."

She had sued Thomas for $5,750. Thomas was not in court. Mrs. Russell said in addition to paying $25 for a half interest in Beech Line, she gave Thomas $425 for expenses.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

THE signals are called, the ball is snapped, the game is on! Twenty-two alert men trained to perfection and timed to a fraction of a second. Yes, these fellows are keyed to a high fever of expectancy. The best athletes are the fellows who live the cleanest lives on the way up. The church helps greatly in preparing men morally for just such great tests. Yes, there are Two Groups of Substitutes on the sidelines but none quite ready to deliver. Neither is there any substitute for the influence of the Church in a man's life.

There is no substitute for character and morality, for integrity of soul. The supreme demand is for the genuine and the true. You and I are on the team for goodness and for God. Our friends, our neighbors and all our classmates expect us to be ready to play to win in true sportsmanship manner. We can offer no substitute for our best. The church is a good place to learn His will for the game of life and on the gridiron. In the church we learn to live and play the Golden Rule way. Reverence and gratitude and devotion to a man's Highest Friend must be real. No substitute will do.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions and a stronger democracy. In the church the minister is a stronger character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice

on Sunday. You in the Church and the Church in you form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH.

WSCS Members Hold Meeting at Garrison Home

The regular meeting of the Maple Grove W.S.C.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Garrison with fourteen members present.

Mrs. O. L. Eckle opened the meeting with devotions using as her topic for a reading, "Volcanoes In Southeast Asia", an article "The Reason For Missions", which was followed with the singing of a hymn and Mrs. Eckle closed with a short talk on the Islands, and the great need for missionary work during the period of re-adjustment and closed with a prayer for missions.

The vice president, Mrs. Ralph Garrison, conducted the business session and following the usual reports a recent trip to Chillicothe Veteran's Hospital which included a treat to the veterans made by Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Fenton Graves, Mrs. Fred Freshour, Mrs. Floyd Jeal, Mrs. Ralph Garrison, Mrs. Roy Garrison, Mrs. Marion Dawson and Mrs. C. L. Eckle, was reported by Mrs. Ralph Garrison.

Plans were made to contribute to the commissary at the hospital for Christmas gifts for the patients and the program in charge of Mrs. John Rowland consisted of contests with prizes going to Mrs. Otto Beeddy and Mrs. Roy Garrison.

The meeting was closed with the society benediction and during the social hour the hostess served refreshments suggestive of Hallo-

BPW Members Attend Meeting In Greenfield

Eleven members of the Washington C. H. Business and Professional Woman's Club, motor-od to Greenfield Thursday evening to be guests of the Greenfield Club at a dinner meeting held in the Eastern Star Hall.

The president, Mrs. Joretta Mossberger welcomed the guests and following the dinner, presided over a brief business session.

A Thanksgiving theme was carried out in the musical program which included two vocal solos "Bless This House" and "I Believe" by Miss Sarah Sharp accompanied by Mrs. Olive Sharp, at the piano, who also accompanied for group singing led by Miss Sharp.

The guest speaker for the meeting was Mrs. Agnes Merritt of Columbus, who is Dean of the Girls State Program and also a teacher in the Columbus Public Schools.

Mrs. Merritt's most timely topic was "Interest in Legislation".

Members motoring down for the meeting were: Miss Mary Frances Snider, Mrs. William Rogers, Miss Ruth Sexton, Mrs. Paul Haines, Miss Helen Slavens, Mrs. Wilbur Wilson, Miss Edith Wilson, Miss Frances White, Miss Gretchen Darlington, Mrs. Doris Diffendal and Miss Jean Everhart.

Circle Members Hold Regular Morning Meeting

The regular meeting of Circle 1 of the Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church met in the Church House Thursday at 9:15 a. m.

A coffee hour was enjoyed preceding the meeting with nine members seated at one long table with Mrs. Herbert Clickner giving the invocation.

The meeting later was conducted by Mrs. L. M. Hayes and opened with the reading of an interesting article and offered prayer.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were given and approved and Mrs. Hayes reported on the executive board meeting.

Tickets were distributed to be sold for the smorgasbord to be served at the church, November 14 and the Bible study on the ninth and tenth lessons on Ephesians was conducted by Mrs. Herbert Clickner and a discussion followed.

A program on "Thailand" was in charge of Mrs. Omar Schwartz, Jr., and the meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred D. Wooldard have returned from Columbus where they attended a meeting of the Ohio Dental Association held at the Neil House from Sunday through Wednesday.

Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Orris Riley, Mrs. Floyd Rea, Mrs. Marion Dawson and Mrs. O. L. Eckle, made up a party on Thursday to tour the Spring Hill Nurseries at Tipp City.

Ladies Luncheon Enjoyed Thursday At Country Club

Thirty-six members enjoyed the ladies luncheon bridge at the Washington Country Club and one guest was included.

Decorations in the club lounge were arrangements of roses which predominated and other fall flowers added to the attractive setting.

Bouquets of roses centered the tables seating the group for a delightful luncheon hour and the afternoon was pleasantly spent in the progressive game which was concluded with the presenting of awards to Mrs. Clarence E. Craig who was the holder of high score, Mrs. L. C. Coffman and awards in special games went to Miss Mary Barnes and Mrs. Willis Coffman.

Mrs. Stanley Chitty was included as a guest and out-of-town members present were Mrs. W. W. Trovillo, Mrs. Ralph Whaley of Frankfort and Mrs. Aubin Hedges of Hillsboro.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Francis Haines, chairman, Mrs. Darrell Weinrich and Mrs. M. J. Whitfield who were also assisted by Mrs. Robert Edge.

An eggplant that weighs about a pound, and is often called medium-sized, is good for stuffing when four persons are to be served.

Add chopped raisins and rum flavoring to a vanilla butter frosting and use as a cake filling. You can plump the raisins by letting them stand in very hot water for a short time and then draining thoroughly.

Bookwalters Willing Workers Hold Meeting

The Bookwalters Willing Workers assembled at the home of Mrs. Bernard Edwards for the regular meeting with fourteen members present.

Mrs. Oglia Fradd, president, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Russell Geringer led in the devotions.

The secretary, Mrs. Clayton Whiteside, gave her report and Mrs. Dan Warner, treasurer, also gave her report.

A committee composed of Mrs. Dan Warner and Mrs. Clayton Whiteside was appointed to arrange to send boxes to boys in the service for Christmas.

The meeting was adjourned and during the social hour, Mrs. Edwards was assisted by Mrs. Ervin Grace and Mrs. Raymond Geer in the serving of seasonal refreshments.

Spaghetti Outsell Beans in 'Beantown'

BOSTON (AP) — Boston may be known as the "Bean Town" to outsiders but the truth of the matter is, according to the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce — Spaghetti out sells baked beans by three to one in Boston.

Massachusetts firms annually manufacture 20 million dollars worth of macaroni products some of which are exported to Italy, the Chamber of Commerce adds.

Chocolate sauce, to be served over ice cream, usually stores well in a tightly covered container in the refrigerator. Nice to keep on hand!

To simmer a food, means to cook in liquid just below the boiling point. Bubbles should form slowly and break just below the surface of the liquid.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

What's in a Name?

SHIDLER, Okla. (AP) — A jar of home made peach preserves entered in a fair was mistakenly labeled apple butter. It won first prize as apple butter.

270 Fayette Precinct Officials Ready for Duty

It will take 270 men and women precinct officials and around $3,700 to conduct Tuesday's election in Fayette County. In addition there will be the cost of printing the ballots, eight of them all told, and such incidentals as electricity and janitors to clean up the debris in the Courthouse basement around the Board of Elections office.

The presiding judge, three judges and two clerks in each precinct will receive the same compensation, $12 for the 12-hour day at the polls.

However, the presiding judges will be paid, on a mileage basis, for getting the ballots and returning them, with the results, after the election, to the Board of Elections office. This additional pay varies, but averages about $3 for each of the 45 voting precincts in the city, villages and county.

THERE IS NO charge for some of the polling places (those in public buildings, such as township halls and schools), but the rental for the day for the space in private homes runs about $10 each.

The bill for the printing of the ballots is not yet in and pay for the clean-up work cannot be figured until the janitors turn in their time.

The polls will open at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday and close at 6:30 p.m., but when the election officials will actually finish their task of counting the votes is conjectural and dependant, to a large degree, on the number of votes cast and the speed and efficiency of the tabulators.

There will be six election officials, three Democrats and three Republicans, in each precinct; the presiding judge (first on the following list), three judges (listed next) and two clerks (last on the list):

WHS Students Holding Mock Election Friday

Students at Washington High School are learning a lesson in democracy this week through a mock political convention and a mock election patterned after the real thing.

The "convention" met during a Thursday morning assembly, and several speakers represented national and local candidates. Friday members of the student body

Convicted Slayer Seeks New Trial

COLUMBUS (AP) — Homer Jack Dean, convicted six years ago for the murder of a Columbus real estate man, has asked for a new trial.

Dean is now in Franklin County Jail awaiting developments. He was released from Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday after it was discovered papers committing him to prison never were signed by the trial judge.

Dean was sentenced in 1950 in the 1947 slaying of Elmo Rice.

FAYETTE COUNTY

SCHOOL FACTS NO. 11

DO YOU WANT THE

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES

NOW FIGURE WHAT IT WILL COST YOU!

Take the time to figure what the proposed Miami Trace school will cost you. Following is an example, study it and then use your figures on which you pay taxes.

200 acres of land at $90 per acre	$18,000
Taxable valuation on farm buildings	$12,000
$12,640 machinery, livestock, hay, grain at 50%	$ 6,320
Total taxable valuation	$36,320

Miami Trace proposed millage is $2.58 per thousand so $36.32 \times 2.58 = $93.71$ ADDITIONAL tax per year $93.71 \times 21 \text{ years} = $1,967.91$ ADDITIONAL tax for the life of the Miami Trace bonds.

When your income from livestock and grain becomes greatly reduced due to crop failures, declining prices or depression will you still have to pay the same number of dollars?

YES, even if you have to mortgage the farm to do it.

Does this present bond issue for $1,652,500 plus interest of over $600,000 cover school operating expenses?

NO, there must be unknown additional taxes levied later.

What can you do to prevent this wasteful spending of your farm income?

Vote against the Miami Trace bond issue.

Wilson PTO Plans Supper on Nov. 7

Bainter stepped out of his role of football quarterback to support his classmate Kefauver for vice president. Adlai Stevenson, in the person of Webb Ellis, was forced to cut his speech short due to lack of time—an old political nemesis.

President Frank Weade read a letter from the teachers expressing appreciation for the new merry-go-round for the playground and other things purchased for the school by the PTO.

The attendance banner was awarded to the fourth graders for having the most parents at the meeting.

The next meeting will be combined with the annual Christmas party. The date is to be set later.

Cider and doughnuts were served by Mrs. Charles Torbert and Mrs. Perley Fryer.

Dow Finsterwald Improvement Hailed

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald, in his second full tourney year, and Marlene Bauer Haggie were named "most improved professionals" of 1956 by Gold Digest magazine Thursday.

Finsterwald, 27, climbed from a 14th finish among 1955 money-winners to second behind Ted Kroll this year. Through the Western Open, Finsterwald, a slender 155-pounder, had earned $28,113 compared with $15,386 last year.

Federal government employment in Colorado is 33,200. This is more than the state's mining industry payroll.

Dean was sentenced in 1950 in the 1947 slaying of Elmo Rice.

Halloween Party At Wilson School

Pupils of Wilson School had their own Halloween celebration, but it was in the form of a party at the school.

The teachers and a committee of the Parent-Teacher Organization were the hosts and hostesses. Mrs. Paul Keefer was chairman of the PTO committee.

There were games and a Halloween costume contest.

Masquerade winners were: First grade — Linda Calendar, Stephen Self and Rebecca Fryer; Second grade — Julia Brunner, R. O. N. Shultz and Chris Bower; Third grade — Ruth Ann Miller; Fourth grade — Patricia Johnson, Johnnie Mick and Johnny Caplinger; Fifth grade — Lynne Payne, Allan Hanes and Julia Rankin; Sixth and seventh grades — Rose Mary Caplinger, Joella Wilson and Susan Torbert.

The party was brought to a close by the serving of ice cream and cookies.

Washington High Honor Student Unit Elects Officers

The Washington High School chapter of the National Honor Society has named the following officers: Webb Ellis, president; Linda Anderson, vice president; Sarah Core, secretary; Ann Meriweather, treasurer.

The group is making plans for a "soc - hop". Money raised from the dance will be used towards induction ceremonies and reception of new members.

The aims of the society are to recognize and encourage outstanding scholarship, character, leadership and service. Members are on the basis of such qualities after recommendation by teachers. Only 15 per cent of a graduating class may belong to the group.

Concert Season Opener Just Three Weeks Away

Three weeks from tonight Rey and Gomez, Spanish dancers, will open the tenth Community Concerts season in Washington C. H. The annual Community Concerts membership campaign, under way this week, will close Saturday evening. More than 50 workers throughout Washington C. H., Fayette County and surrounding communities have been busy obtaining renewal memberships and signing up new members for the forthcoming series.

"You must obtain your membership by closing time Saturday evening or you will not be able to enjoy the three entertaining concert attractions to be presented," Robert Parish, president of the concert association said Friday. The president suggested that "everyone stop in at the concert headquarters at the First Federal Savings & Loan, or phone 41791 and a worker degree, they have been backing the candidacy of George Bender, opposed by five time Ohio governor Frank J. Lausche, for reelection to the U. S. Senate and election of Albert L. Daniels of Greenfield to the seat in the national Congress now occupied by Rep. James G. Polk, a Democrat.

Fayette County Voters

NONE OF the unopposed candidates for county office has been making much of a campaign. Those who will remain in office for another term without effort are Virgil Perrill, representative to the State Legislature; Robert C. Cockrell and Ralph Minton, to the board of county commissioners; Harry R. Allen, county auditor; Rollo M. Marchant, prosecuting attorney; Dorothy L. West, clerk of courts; Eloise W. Johnson, recorder; Charles A. Fabb, treasurer; Charles P. Wagner, engineer and Dr. N. M. Reiff, coroner.

During the hearing, City Solicitor Norman Putman said the city could not pay for street lighting. He said 7 per cent was added to residential bills and 10 per cent to commercial bills to pay for lighting Massillon streets.

The company now is collecting these percentages but setting them aside until the commission rules on the company's appeal from the ordinance.

The company wants the commission to set interim rates from the time the old ordinance expired, Aug. 31, until the commission decides the main case.

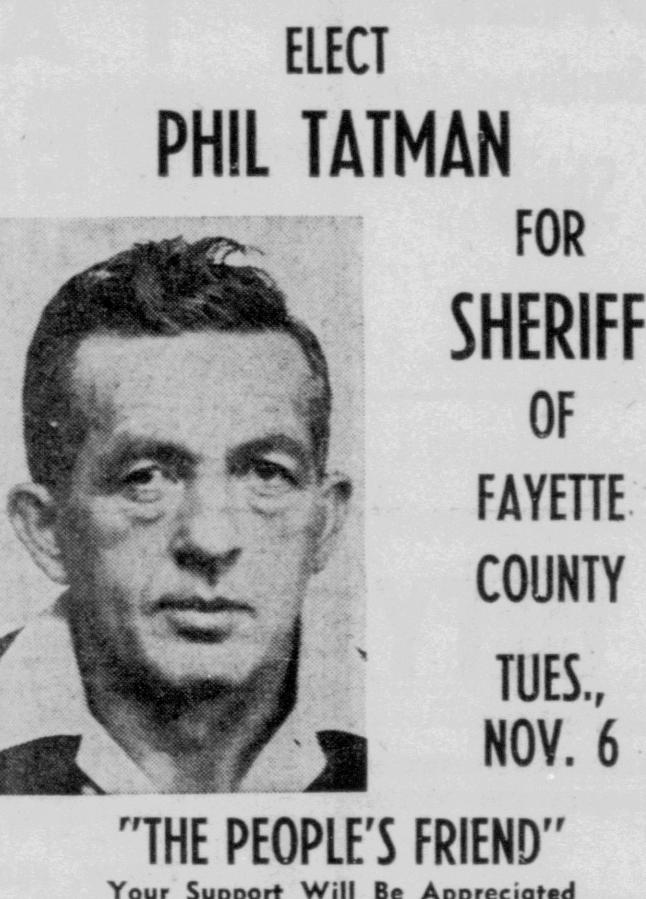

Massillon voters on Nov. 6 will decide on a real estate tax levy which, if passed, would pay for street lighting. If the levy passes, the 7 and 10 per cent surcharges will be abolished.

VOTERS will be confronted with two county issues and two state issues, in addition to the other local proposals.

One of the two county proposals is the two - tenths of a mill levy for operation of the county Health Department and the other is a levy for .25 of a mill for the county's share of the cost of operation of the Mt. Logan Sanatorium. Both run for five years. A majority vote is required for passage of the Mt. Logan levy, but the Health Department levy requires 55 per cent affirmative vote for approval. Both proposals are renewals.

Majority of Ohio Editors Like Ike, Bender, O'Neill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Ohio's newspaper editors overwhelming support the re-election of President Eisenhower, and GOP Sen. George H. Bender and the elevation of Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill to the governor's office.

This was made apparent today by the results of an Associated Press survey of an even 10 Ohio newspapers.

Not every newspaper replying to the AP's questionnaire made endorsements in every one of the three major races in Ohio and some made no editorial endorsement at all. There were eight in the latter group.

Of the 100 newspapers which replied, 58 listed themselves as normally leaning to the Republican cause, 12 leaning to the Democrats and 30 declared themselves politically independent.

The survey showed that 81 of the 90 editors who made an endorsement in next Tuesday's presidential race prefer President Eisenhower over his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson.

Sen. Bender got the nod from 52 of the 80 editors who made a choice in the senate race. But of the 28 endorsements received by his Democratic opponent — five-term Gov. Frank J. Lausche — 21 came from newspapers which are supporting Eisenhower and O'Neill.

O'Neill has the endorsement of 78 of the 87 newspapers which made a recommendation in the gubernatorial contest. Democratic candidate Michael V. DiSalle, like Stevenson, won nine endorsements from the 100 newspapers which replied.

Replies were received from 44 daily newspapers — 13 in the so-called metropolitan group — and from 56 weekly newspapers.

In the big-city group, only the Toledo Blade is backing Stevenson and DiSalle. Eisenhower has the support of 12 and O'Neill is backed by 11. But the gap narrows on the senate race, where Bender has an 8-5 edge over Lausche.

Five big papers which support Eisenhower and O'Neill are backing Lausche. They are the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Cleveland

Press, the Youngstown Vindicator, the Akron Beacon Journal and the Columbus Citizen. The Toledo Blade endorsements are diametrically the opposite — Stevenson, DiSalle and Bender.

Eight of the metropolitan newspapers which replied listed themselves as independent; the other five listed Republican leanings.

Among the 31 smaller-city daily newspapers which replied to the survey, six made no endorsements at all. Eighteen said they were Republican, four said they leaned to the Democratic side and nine said they are independent. Of those who expressed preferences, 13 which say they are independent.

The trend established among the dailies holds for the weeklies.

President Eisenhower got 47 of the 53 endorsements in next Tuesday's top race; Stevenson got the other six. Bender outscored Lausche, 31-16, but again it must be noted that 9 of Lausche's 16 endorsements came from newspapers supporting Republicans in other races.

An oddity of the results was this: Stevenson and DiSalle got exactly the same number of endorsements — in the overall total and in each newspaper group. Each got 9, one each from the big city dailies, two each from small-city dailies and six each from the weeklies.

Huge Tax Claim Filed against Firm

CANTON (P) — A tax lien for $1,050,207 has been filed here against the Muskingum Coal Co. and its subsidiaries, Jones Motor Sales, Inc., and Earl J. Jones Enterprises, Inc., of Zanesville.

Earl J. Jones of Zanesville controls all three firms. Earl J. Jones Enterprises includes the Massillon Independent newspaper.

The government said the lien, filed in the Stark County recorder's office, is for unpaid federal income taxes for the years 1952 through 1955.

Eclipse of Moon Slated for Nov. 18

CINCINNATI (P) — There will be a total eclipse of the moon Nov. 18 but Ohioans will have to stay up late to see it.

Dr. Everett I. Yowell, professor emeritus of astronomy for the University of Cincinnati, who compiles a monthly report on astronomical highlights, said the eclipse would begin three minutes after midnight.

Its totality will begin at 1:08 a. m. The middle of the eclipse will be at 1:48 a. m., and the end at 2:27 a. m.

papers which are backing both Eisenhower and O'Neill jumped the political fence to endorse Lausche.

Fifty-six weekly newspapers replied, but two made no endorsements, they reported. In this group of newspapers are 35 which call themselves Republican, 8 which list themselves as Democratic and 13 which say they are independent.

The trend established among the dailies holds for the weeklies.

Dem Chieftain Pulls Boner, Booms for Ike

CLEVELAND (P) — Refusing to say why she did it, a 19-year-old girl has admitted she made up a story which spurred Assistant Prosecutor Saul S. Danaceau into asking for a reopening of the investigation of the murder of Marilyn Sheppard in 1954.

The case, said Danaceau, "is now a closed incident."

The girl, Miss Margaret Jackson of Cleveland, was taken back to a Wheeling, W. Va., religious school where she has been living.

Danaceau had talked with her there last week and said she told him a lurid story of how a male acquaintance had fought with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard just before the death of Sheppard's wife.

It is an "uncalculated risk for even the youngest and most supine citizens," he said. "Young girls come to chiropractors for what can be diagnosed as 'rock 'n' roll shoulder.'" He said:

"They often wind up with sacroiliacs as much out of harmony as the music they dance to."

LEXINGTON, Ky. (P) — A Lexington chiropractor says dancing to rock 'n' roll music is causing a mild boom in his field.

"This uninhibited dancing without any rules or special steps is bringing a variety of sprains and displacements," Dr. George Cheatham Jr. told the Lexington Chiropractic Assn.

Ohio Mental Patient List Showing Decline in Number

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — There are fewer persons in Ohio's mental hospitals than there have been for the last 2½ years, the department of mental hygiene and correction said today.

Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, acting director, said today's total is 26,663, which is 658 fewer than the all-time high reached July 1, 1955, and a bit lower than the total 2½ years ago.

The decrease in patients in hospitals came despite a record high admission rate of more than 10,000 a year, Dr. Albrecht said.

He attributed the drop to three factors:

Since July 1, 1955, the department has been able to increase the number of persons treating patients by 10 per cent.

Use of tranquilizing drugs has been successful.

The number of social service workers in Ohio's mental hygiene program has increased by nearly 40 per cent since July 1, 1955. This means that patients who leave the hospital are less likely to return. Before they leave a hospital they are prepared for a return to family life.

Dr. Albrecht said the decline in the number of persons in mental hospitals has continued for the last 16 months. He added:

"We confidently anticipate that as the number of treatment and social service personnel continues to grow and as the new treatment facilities provided by the department's tremendous building program are put to use, this trend will be considerably accelerated."

Miami Trace enrollment is DOWN approximately 100 students over last year. Miami Trace is now a self contained High School District and is NOT faced with an emergency.

Miami Trace leaders are now using last year's arguments that they will be shattered by enforced annexation to other districts if the proposed bond issue is defeated. THIS IS NOT TRUE, and has no legal basis of fact.

With extra space for 400 now, what will you do with a new building with 900 more extra empty seats? Are you willing to spend $1,652,500 plus interest for a total of well over $2,000,000 in INCREASED taxes for empty space for 1300 students?

We all want good schools but let's be reasonable, let's be practical. We are doing pretty well for our children when we consider 29 million dollars, equal to ONE-HALF the total taxable wealth of Fayette County, will be spent on education in the next 21 years.

Methodist Rally At Xenia Monday

Bishop and Mrs. Hazen G. Werner

Methodist of the 211 churches of the Dayton and Wilmington districts of the denomination will meet Monday evening, in the Xenia Field House for a mass rally.

Bishop Hazen G. Werner, Ohio area resident bishop, will present the Methodist program for the quadrennium beginning in 1956 and ending in 1960.

The four arms of the "Advance Program" which Bishop Werner will outline will be the new Methodist Theological Seminary in Ohio, the camp-site needs of the two districts, church extension projects within the two districts and special missionary projects in Southeast Asia.

Mrs. Werner will present an illustrated review of the missionary projects which the Ohio area will support during the quadrennium. Bishop and Mrs. Werner made an extended visit of the missionary work in European and Asian countries leaving America in November 1955, and returning in February 1956.

OHIO'S NEED for a new Methodist seminary will be outlined by Bishop Werner as the major emphasis for Ohio Methodist during the next four years.

"We are ready now to move toward the accomplishment of this task," he said as he spoke of the proposed four-million-dollar seminary which has a target date of 1960.

The provisional organization for the Methodist theological school in Ohio has been formed. Persons of unmistakable and superb leadership have accepted positions of high responsibility in the undertaking. The new Methodist seminary will set the course of our ministry for the next 100 years," Bishop Werner stated.

The provisional organization for the establishment of the new theological school in Ohio held its first meeting Sept. 22 in Columbus. Members of the 90-man organization came from the episcopal areas of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, and Louisville.

THE METHODIST General Conference authorized the establishment of two new theological schools at its recent meeting held in Minneapolis, Ohio and the Kansas-Ne-

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

While most New Hollanders were totally unconscious of the fact, a battle to the death took place right in their midst a few days ago and the killers robbed the dead of all their earthly possessions.

It all happened when Bob Lewis, New Holland real estate man, purchased an old house on Allen Ave., in New Holland, planning to remodel it.

He discovered that no less than three swarms of bees had long resided in the house, and apparently had filled a great deal of space between the weatherboarding and plastering, with a huge store of honey.

He killed the bees with cyanic acid but was undecided what to do about the store of honey, until Marvin Landman, Pickaway County bee inspector, suggested that he just leave the honey alone and bees from other swarms would soon discover the unprotected treasure and carry it to their own homes to provide food for the winter, inasmuch as bees are said to be short of a honey supply for the winter.

Bob decided to wait and see what happened.

It was not long until "robber bees" arrived on the scene, and a battle to the death between the robber bees and the few that had escaped the gas, was on.

Thousands of bees flocked to the house, and after the owners of the honey, few in number compared from other swarms, with the honey seekers had been disposed of, the store of honey was carried away within a few days, and will do much toward saving many colonies of bees in the New Holland community.

Ohio alone needs 133 new trained men each year to meet the growth of new congregations and to replace those past or whose service has ended in retirement or death," Bishop Werner stated. "To replace men lost through these two reasons, it requires 78 men a year.

The average number of trained men entering the ministry each year totals 59, far below the needs of the church. The new Methodist Theological school for Ohio, coupled with a strong program of recruitment of our finest youth, is our greatest need. We have weighed with care and with prayer this great enterprise. We have heard the call. We are ready to go," the bishop declared.

It was decided by the provisional organization that the churches would be asked to accept 1½ million of the total four million as a conference advance special for this quadrennium. The remaining 2½ million will be sought through special gifts.

THE NEED for trained ministers to fill Methodist pulpits has been described by leaders of the church as a crisis need throughout the country. Methodism shares with other denominations in the shortage of ministers.

Mr. Charles Wagner has been displaying a large bouquet of exceptionally choice dahlias, of the shaggy type, which was given to her by Mrs. Emma Barchet, of East St., who raised them in her garden.

Mrs. Barchet has been growing some choice flowers for 10 years, and is always very generous with them. Perhaps that is why she has such great luck with her flowers.

Flames were licking high above the building on S. Main St. late in the night, and soon the Washington Fire Department was on the scene, laying hose and preparing to pour water into the building.

A large crowd collected, but there was no water poured into the building and firemen retreated, disgusted, because someone had turned on a fire alarm when they saw flames shooting from the cupola of the George Swope Machine Shop and Foundry where the G. D. Baker & Son Road Construction Co. plant is now located.

At that time George Swope was the city's A-1 mechanic and foundryman. His little foundry turned out gray iron castings of grate bars, stove parts and even farm bells between 1900 and 1905.

His machine shop handled all kinds of repair work, even automobiles, the first of which were just beginning to appear. In fact, George and Harry Miller, who were with the Swope shop, built an automobile themselves, and operated it for two or three years.

The shop even repaired bicycles. Harry, who resides on S. Fayette St., recalls that it was so cold in the casting room during the winter that he wore felt boots to keep his feet warm.

Later George moved his shop to neighbors, friends, relatives and the community-at-large.

Now, for a given marriage to be, basically, a right relationship, each party to the contract must accept his (or her) primary assignments as a matter of course—not trying to shirk or evade them.

George feels that we should use my salary, less my weekly lunch and commuting expenses, to pay all maintenance bills; and that his salary should be banked, in entirety, in his name only.

I feel we should divide the costs of household upkeep, thus leaving me enough of my weekly pay check to buy clothes, or household items, or to put in a savings account.

Will you please help solve this dilemma?

P. K.

DEAR P. K.: To give both of you an objective view of fair dealing about money in marriage, may I explain:

Marriage is a partnership, presumably, in which the husband has certain specific obligations, and the wife has others. According to immemorial tradition, world wide custom and the law of this land, a man is first of all financially responsible for providing a home for wife and children. This includes food, shelter, clothing, medical care, etc., in proportion to his income.

The woman's complex obligation in marriage, her manifold duty that takes precedence over all others, is to be housewife, homemaker, mother of children, thrifty manager; minister to the health and general well being of members of the household; and architect of the family's social relations with in short, the logic of marriage compels us to recognize fully a man's traditional obligations versus a woman's, in family teamwork, as a frame of reference for redistributing the load to mutual advantage—according to individual partnership tastes, or new social circumstances, or emergency requirements.

In your case, George's "bad acting" is rooted in refusal to acknowledge, much less to accept, his basic social role in marriage which is to bring home the bacon and give his spouse economic shelter.

It is this wrong-headed attitude of his that has made it impossible for you to talk sense to him; and has created a climate of sordid squabbling.

I agree with you that in minimum decency, George ought to contribute at least half to the regular costs of household upkeep. Then if he effects savings, by letting you clothe yourself, etc., I should think the savings account should be in your name as well as his. After all, what is marriage, if not mutual sharing, based on mutual trust? If George obstinately persists in his won't-share course, the spirit of unity doesn't exist, and you might as well end the farce.

How Does a Candidate Feel on Election Night?

By JOHN I. SEMBOWER

WASHINGTON — "Wonder how a candidate for President feels 'sweating it out' on election night?" That question will be in the minds of most of President Eisenhower's and challenger Stevenson's fellow citizens as the nation thrills to the ebb and flow of the returns after the polls close Tuesday.

There is plenty of precedent for withdrawing to their respective farms at Gettysburg, Pa., and Libertyville, Ill., to "keep the watch" with friends, relatives and neighbors; or to repair to their key political headquarters where supporters and "team members" may buoy them up for the ordeal.

MOST recent contenders have done one or the other, although Harry S. Truman's "disappearance" in 1948 to a watering spa in his beloved Ozarks, while daughter Margaret exultantly met newsmen with word of the great "upset" victory and kept her dad's secret as to his whereabouts, was something new and different.

Having campaigned for the last vote, Truman craved solitude and rest with the verdict "in the lap of the gods." The records do not tell of any other presidential aspirant doing exactly that, although some memoirs of people who were there say that Franklin D. Roosevelt, more apprehensive than his managers of the outcome in 1944 against Willkie, withdrew alone to the solitude of his study at Hyde Park until victory was assured.

AT LEAST one leading hopeful who forecast his defeat a week earlier, the Democrats' Stephen A. Douglas, played the string out in 1860 at Montgomery, Ala., and was far away from his Illinois home base, as returns poured in that Lincoln was winning him under.

In retrospect, he made a fine gesture, because in that last speech he had urged the South to stay in the Union "even if Lincoln is elected."

Meanwhile, Lincoln heard canons booming in the dawn at his hometown, Springfield, Ill., as he slowly walked home from a tumultuous courthouse celebration to burst in on his wife with, "Mary, we're elected!"

The nervous systems of the Democrats' Samuel J. Tilden and the was that of Horace Greeley, New York City publisher who as the Democrats' standard bearer in 1872, sat in mourning for his wife, who had died a few days earlier, and watched Gen. U. S. Grant's total pile up. Broken-hearted and bankrupt, he died only a month later.

It is unlikely that Adlai or Ike will duplicate the unusual experience of John Quincy Adams, whose "returns" consisted of a notification delivered at his office in Washington that a four-way deadlock in the election months earlier had been broken in his favor by the House of Representatives.

IT IS NECESSARY only to go back to 1916 to see that the modern set up can create killing suspense. Woodrow Wilson went to bed on election night "almost pleased and relieved," according to his friends.

Buckeye Grid Spotlight on Bowling Green

High-Flying Falcons
Due To Tangle with
Mighty Miami '11'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Buckeye State's collegiate football spotlight Saturday will swing directly to Bowling Green.

There the high-flying Falcons, on the upsurge under the deft handling of Coach Doyt Perry, will try to knock Miami's defending champions off the Mid-American Conference throne.

For 11 straight games the Redskins have triumphed over the Bee-Gees, turning the trick last year by 7-0 to shove Bowling Green into a second-place tie in the rugged circuit.

This year the two powerhouses go into the game with identical 4-0 records, with the title riding on the outcome. All the others in the loop have dropped at least two games.

Bowling Green, in four league tilts, has outscored the foe 109-37, and Miami has an 84-35 advantage. The Falcons are tops in the loop on offense with a 377-yard average, and on defense with 198. Miami is second in each category, with figures of 326 and 233.

In the nine years Miami has been a member of the Mid-American, the Redskins have never lost a game to a team now holding a membership in the loop. They've won 32, lost 3 and tied one league game over that stretch, and in the last two years chalked up victories over Indiana and Northwestern of the Big Ten.

But the Bee-Gees are out to end the Miami monopoly under Perry, who has a record of 14 wins, one loss and one tie for his two campaigns at Bowling Green. The Falcon mentor is the first Bowling Green grad to coach the Bee-Gees, having quarterbacked the 1929-30-31 teams through an 18-game winning streak.

Since starting football in 1919, Bowling Green has never enjoyed an unbeaten-untied season. Miami has had six of 'em since 1889, and was unbeaten but tied in five others. The 1917 team was perfect, winning all its games by shutouts.

The Miami-Bowling Green classic is the headliner of a 23-game Saturday slate involving the Ohio colleges.

Dayton, which lost 26-13 to Xavier last week for its fourth straight loss—first time since 1923 the Flyers have bowed four times in a row—met Louisville in a night game. The Flyers are counting on Don (Butch) Zimmerman, southpaw quarterback who has been out for five games, to get them back on the victory trail.

In the Mid-American, Toledo invades Kent State, and Ohio U. goes to Western Michigan, to decide the lower spots in the standing—with Ohio U. seeking its first win in seven starts.

Other games include Akron at Oberlin, Marietta at Capital, Heidelberg at Mount Union, Muskingum at Otterbein, and Wittenberg at Wooster, all in the Ohio Conference; Bluffton at Ashland in the Mid-Ohio League, with Bluffton needing a win to wrap up the undisputed title; Western Reserve at John Carroll in the Presidents' Conference; Denison at Ohio Northern, and Ohio Wesleyan at Baldwin Wallace in non-conference contests; and interstate games sending Bethany to Hiram, Kenyon to Hamilton, Defiance to Taylor, Findlay to Waynesburg, Wilmington to Earlham, Detroit to Cincinnati, Colorado A. & M. to Xavier, Case Tech to Edinboro, Pa., Teachers, and Marshall to Youngstown.

NEW YORK (AP)—After a sparse opening week schedule of seven games, the National Basketball Assn. swings into fulltime operation Saturday.

The Syracuse Nationals, eastern division leaders with a 2-0 record, will be in Buffalo to meet the St. Louis Hawks, top club in the west with a 1-0 mark.

In other contests, the New York Knickerbockers visit the Boston Celtics, Fort Wayne's Pistons play the champion Philadelphia Warriors, and the Minneapolis Lakers take on the Rochester Royals.

The Lakers knocked over the Royals, 97-88, in Johnstown, Pa., in the only game played Thursday.

Marion Said In Line for 2 Pilot Jobs

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Marty Marion has been out of a job only eight days and already there's talk about him managing two other major league ball clubs.

The 38-year-old Marion was dropped as manager of the Chicago White Sox after piloting them to a third-place finish in the American League.

One rumor had it Marion and Al Lopez, manager of the second-place Cleveland Indians, were to swap jobs. Lopez was named manager of the White Sox.

Leo Durocher's name popped into the Cleveland picture but he turned it down. Marion was back in front again.

The Globe-Democrat said today it learned from a reliable source Marion might come back to the St. Louis Cardinals, with Manager Fred Hutchinson moving over to Cleveland.

Marion, onetime "Mr. Shortstop" of the Redbirds, said on a television show Thursday night: "I don't know anything about it."

The Globe quoted its source as saying the Marion-Hutchinson move was being discussed by the two clubs.

It pointed to the fact that General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians and Hutchinson were team-mates at Detroit while Marion and Cardinal General Manager Frank Lane were associated with the White Sox.

No Politics Being Talked At Olympics

MELBOURNE (AP)—There seemed to be an unspoken agreement on all sides not to discuss politics or world affairs today as the athletes moved into the homelike atmosphere of the Olympic Village.

More than 300 athletes are now living in the village and more are arriving daily. But seldom is a word heard about the Middle East and Eastern Europe situations.

Wednesday night the first Dutch contingent arrived. Three Poles moved into the village Thursday and a contingent of 11 Swedes was due today.

The first Soviets are expected today and the Americans Nov. 8.

There is a special dining room for the Americans.

Told that Americans like steak, the manager said, "We could give them all six steaks three times a day if they like. We're here to give them anything they want. We've had our best cattle especially set aside to provide the meat to feed the athletes at these games and we have a great supply of 14-ounce steaks."

In the dining room for Oriental teams, there is complete Oriental cuisine including ricebowls, small tea cups without handles and chopsticks.

Nationalist China and Communist China will have tables in different rooms.

A Big Ten record set in 1902 still holds. It was a football score: Michigan 107, Iowa 0.

Woody Hayes Keeping Eye On Two Former WHS Stars

Two of last year's standout WHS Lion gridironers have gone on to bigger things in football and, barring any now unforeseen complications on local fans who watched John Sommers and Dick Anders in high school here, may be seeing them perform for Ohio State University's Bucks during the next two or three years.

Both played guard positions for the Lions and both were selected for those positions on the all-SCO League team last year. Both are now guards on the Ohio State freshman squad.

Sommers was second choice on last year's all-state high school team, and Anders received honorable mention.

Fred Domenico, WHS head coach, said he had been watching their progress closely since they entered Ohio State this fall and has talked with Coach Wood Hayes of the Bucks frequently about it.

In Domenico's opinion, it is their love of the game, their love of rough and tumble contact, and aggressive desire that makes them good football players. Of Anders, his high school coach said his agility and ability to diagnose opponents' plays made up for what he may lack in weight.

Both boys are regarded as equally good on either offense or defense.

Both are at Ohio State on athletic scholarships which provide boys through which they can play part of their expenses for an education.

Sommers is the son of Mrs. Lillian Sommers, 428 Forest St., teacher at the Eastside School. Anders is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anders, 1019 S. Hind St.

STAGE REPORTED SET FOR EGYPT INVASION

Ike, Adlai Debate Middle East Eisenhower Believes Nation Has Chosen 'Path of Honor'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Thursday night his administration has chosen "a path of honor" in the Middle East crisis by refusing to "condone armed aggression."

And he told an overflow crowd in Philadelphia's 16,000-seat Convention Hall that because he is convinced he picked the right path he is "undisturbed by the strident voices of those few who seem to be seeking to turn world events to political profit."

Speaking also to a nationwide television-radio audience, that was as close as Eisenhower came to replying to sharp criticism which Adlai E. Stevenson has been hurling at him regarding the Middle East situation.

It was Eisenhower's last major speech of the campaign and he did fire back at Stevenson once again on two other issues, without naming his Democratic rival. He said his opponent is advocating "a design for disaster" in these times

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden refused today to give an immediate decision on a U.N. call for a cease-fire in the Middle East, and the Labor party warned that unofficial strikes may sweep the country unless he speaks out soon. Eden told the House of Commons he had not yet had time to receive, much less study, the proceedings of the U.N. General Assembly in New York.

Britain's Labor leaders, in both the political and trade union branches of the movement, have stressed that labor will not approve "industrial action" as a weapon against Eden's policies. The party, however, is attempting to organize a mass popular protest of "law—not war."

Eden's refusal to commit himself at once on the U.N. actions touched off another angry scene in the House of Commons—the second in as many days—with Laborites demanding he "resign."

Anneurin Bevan, speaking as one of labor's recognized leaders, told Eden:

"THE VAST majority of the U.N. Assembly has condemned our action in being at war. It is going to be extremely difficult for many of us to restrain action in the country. Will not the government help us a bit?"

"If Parliament as a forum of popular expression is to be denied an opportunity of considering this grave matter, what answer have we got for people outside?"

Eden was under mounting pressure to find a face-saving way out of the hostilities.

After bitter debate in the House of Commons, Eden won four votes of confidence on the government's action in the Middle East. But the voting — ranging from 324-255 to 320-253 — was on strict party lines, and London newspapers estimated that at least 30 of the prime minister's own Conservative followers in the House felt he made a mistake in acting outside the United Nations.

The 76-nation U.N. Assembly, early today adopted a resolution introduced by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, urging that Israel pull her forces out of Egypt and that Britain and France not move their in.

Weary from an all-night meeting, delegates expressed doubt prior to the vote.

Meanderings By Wash Fayette

George Wheaton, house master at the Carr Rest Home on Palmer Rd brought to this office Friday the first "double" turnip I have ever seen.

Apparently it was a turnip which had grown on top of a turnip, but upon close examination I found that a vine had grown about it, and exerted such pressure that the turnip had been forced into growing as if a second turnip had formed underneath the main one.

George says that he has turnips on the Carr farm that weigh two pounds and more.

Stevenson Says Eisenhower Could Have Averted Crisis

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson believes President Eisenhower could have averted the war in Egypt.

THE CROWD in Convention Hall shouted "No, no," when Eisenhower put this question against the background of the current international tension:

"Would we today feel safe or secure as a nation if we — some time in the past — had already ceased perfecting our military weapons and even abandoned our military draft?"

Then he went on to say:

"That is no formula for peace. It is a design for disaster."

Referring apparently to Israel, Britain and France and to their action in Egypt, Eisenhower said:

"I, for one, am confident that those bonds will do more than survive. They can and must grow to new and greater strength."

"But this we know above all: there are some firm principles that cannot bend—they can only break. And we shall not break ours."

He continued:

"We believe that integrity of purpose is the fact that must, most surely, identify and fortify the free world in its struggle against Soviet communism."

"We cannot proclaim this integrity when the issue is easy — and stifle it when the issue is hard."

"To do this would do something worse than merely making our struggle in the world more difficult. For if we were ever to lose that integrity there would be no way to win a true victory in that struggle. This would be surrender that we shall not make."

Strategists Study Effect
Of Mid-East on U.S. Voting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican and Democratic strategists disagreed today about the probable impact of the flaming Middle East crisis on next Tuesday's presidential election.

Democrats contended the fighting in Egypt had tarnished the "peace" issue on which the Republicans have leaned heavily.

They said events had added weight to Adlai E. Stevenson's contention that President Eisenhower's Middle Eastern policies have led to "catastrophic failure."

Nonoperating
Rail Workers
Get New Pact

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Railways Mediation Board announced today that the nation's railroads and 11 nonoperating unions, representing some 700,000 workers, have reached agreement on a long-term wage contract.

The board said the new pact calls for a first-year wage increase of 10 cents an hour effective Nov. 1, 7 cents an hour Nov. 1, 1957, and another 7 cents an hour Nov. 1, 1958.

The railroads agreed to apply an additional 2½-cent wage increase, or $4.25 a month per employee, toward the cost of an employee dependents hospital, medical and surgical plan.

Negotiators said a cost-of-living escalator clause is provided. Pay rates will increase or decrease a cent an hour for each half-point change in the government's cost-of-living index. Adjustments will be made beginning May 1, 1957 and each six months thereafter.

Interstate Commerce Commission figures placed the average pay for nonoperating railroaders before the new contract at $365 a month and $4,266 yearly.

The nonoperating group includes the clerks, track crews, shop employees and others who maintain and operate the rail system, not the moving trains. They had sought a 25-cent wage hike.

Still in mediation are disputes regarding some 200,000 operating railmen—the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Brother of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Nixon Scheduled
For Radio Address

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Vice President Nixon carried the ball for the Republicans in a whistle-stop tour of Pennsylvania today after lauding President Eisenhower for his handling of the Middle East crisis.

The vice president, in a sudden switch of campaign plans announced at Pittsburgh Thursday night, canceled an appearance at an election eve rally in Boston.

He will climax his Pennsylvania tour with a major speech here tonight at 9:30. The speech, to be delivered over a nationwide CBS hook-up, is expected to deal with the international crisis.

Voters To Receive Variety of Ballots Tuesday

All voters in Fayette County will receive at least five separate ballots and some of them six when they go to the polls Tuesday in the county's 45 voting precincts.

They will indicate their choices for president and vice president, a U.S. senator, a congressman, state and county officers; decide the fate of two school bond issues; two levy proposals, a Korean war veterans bonus, the length of term for state senators; and select a chief justice and two judges for the Ohio Supreme Court, one for the district Court of Appeals and a County Common Pleas Court judge.

Voters in Green Township also will decide the fate of a five-tenths of a mill levy proposal for fire protection and those in Union Township will vote on a bond issue proposal for expansion of the cemetery for the township and Washington C. H. Washington C. H. voters will pass on a proposal for a 2.5-mill levy for school operating expenses.

The Union Township bond issue proposal is for $8,000 and would be retired in eight years if approved by a 55 per cent affirmative vote.

The two levies would run for five years and require only a majority vote.

INASMUCH as there is only one average tax levy of 2.58 mills outside the 10-mill limitation. A 55 per cent affirmative vote is required for passage.

Washington C. H. voters will contest for county office, principal interest in the election here, censers on the school building bond issue proposals.

Voters in the county outside Washington C. H. will decide on a $645,000 bond issue proposal to build two new elementary schools and additions to two existing buildings, equip them, buy sites and improve existing buildings.

The bonds would run for a period of 23 years and be retired by an estimated average levy of 2.18 mills outside the 10-mill limitation. A 55 per cent affirmative vote is required for passage.

SHERIFF ORLAND HAYS faces the only opposition among the present incumbent county officials, all of whom are running for reelection. Hays, a Republican, is opposed by Philip Tatman, a Democrat.

With nine of the ten candidates for county offices unopposed, virtually all of the campaigning has been on the national, state and district levels — except for that for and against the school bond issues proposals which, in the Miami Trace area, has been so heated for so long that many experienced political observers are predicting one of the heaviest votes in years.

The Republicans, with a big and active organization, have put most of the fire under the political pot here. They have had dinners and rallies to beat the tomtoms for President Eisenhower's reelection over Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic opponent and the election of Attorney General C. William G. Neill who is opposed by Michael V. DiSalle, for governor. To a less

TO RESTORE PEACE AND MEND RELATIONS — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson (far left) and other top advisers leave the White House at the end of an emergency conference with President Eisenhower. They discussed ways of restoring peace in the Middle East without involving U. S. troops and repairing badly-shaken relations with Britain and France.

City's Sewage Permit Renewed

Paint Creek Outlet
OK'd until June, 1957

The permit to discharge sewage from the Washington C. H. treatment plant into Paint Creek has been renewed for another year by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board. The permit, received by City Manager James F. Parkinson Thursday afternoon, covers the period from June 15, 1956, to June 15, 1957.

It was issued on two conditions:

1. That the city prepare detailed plans, specifications and cost estimates for expansion of the sewage treatment plant here and 2. Make necessary repairs to the interceptor sewers that parallel Paint Creek through the city to the sewage treatment plant.

The spokesman said the situation which was "extremely grave" Thursday night had "relaxed" today. But the Budapest population waited anxiously to see if the Russians would move again.

News of the Soviet action appeared to unite the people more closely behind Nagy.

The strong revolutionary national committee in rebel-controlled Gyoer announced an end to the general strike throughout the nation.

The Soviet troop move came in the wake of Nagy's announcement that Hungary was pulling out of the Kremlin-dominated Warsaw pact and claiming neutral freedom from any power bloc.

The government mean while prepared to resign today and make way temporarily for a small "inner cabinet" of experts under Nagy.

Nagy quickly informed the United Nations of the Soviet military movements and placed Hungary under U. N. protection as a neutral country.

Soviet Embassy representatives assured the premier the troop movements were only a regrouping and not aggressive. They said their forces had ringed Hungarian airfields to ensure evacuation of wounded Soviet soldiers and dependents. Russian families were seen leaving the Soviet embassy during the night.

Budapest Radio earlier broadcast warnings of a new "Soviet invasion." Reports circulated Thursday night that the government had to restrain Hungary's Air Force from going into action against Russian armor camped around Budapest Airfield.

In Rome, a Middle East diplomatic source reported today that Nasser has resigned, but several hours of checking brought no support of the rumor.

With strict censorship operating in Egypt, the Associated Press bureau there apparently was unable to comment on the report. The Egyptian Embassy in London denied it. British government sources tended to discount it.

A spokesman at Israeli army headquarters in Tel Aviv reported the surrender of Gaza City, Egyptian headquarters for the Gaza strip, after a tank-led Israeli tank force smashed into the city.

Bender Hears
Dulles Plans To Quit Post

DAYTON (AP) — U. S. Sen. George H. Bender (R-Ohio) said here Thursday night that he had "heard" that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles intends to resign.

A spokesman with Dulles at the United Nations General Assembly in New York denied this.

Bender emphasized that he had heard the reports from "responsible sources" for some time and that they were not connected with the Israel-Egypt crisis or any recent development in world affairs.

"I have heard the reports for more than a year," the senator said. "Dulles has been wanting to resign for a long time. He is a man in his 70s and a dedicated man. I could understand why he should want to resign for reasons other than any world problems."

"I feel good about the secretary of state," declared Bender, who is campaigning for re-election against Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche. "He is doing the best he can under circumstances as trying as any man has faced."

Bender said his own position on the Middle East crisis "is not that taken by the State Department." He said he took a more "aggressive view" of the situation than either President Eisenhower or Dulles.

"I believe in Israel," Bender declared. "I believe Israel is our only friend in that part of the world. I think we should give every possible aid to Israel short of war."

Bender, here to address the Dayton Bar Assn., endorsed the President's move to take the Middle East issue before the United Nations.

Rescue workers found four bodies during the night at the 3,400-foot level. They said they saw no sign of life in the deep workings where the remaining 114 were known to be trapped.

Six other miners were fatally injured when the explosion roared through the Cumberland Railway and Coal Co. mine slope Thursday night, leveling buildings and reducing surface workings to rubble. Gas fumes killed one man.

U. S. Suspending Arms for Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. government today suspended shipments of military supplies to Israel pending decisions on Israel's role in the Middle East crisis.

The suspension order applies to supplies at the docks ready for loading as well as supplies which might be ready for shipment or en route to ports.

The impact on Israel's military capacity will not be very great—if indeed it is felt at all—in the immediate future.</

2 State Issues To Face Ohio Voter Tuesday

Bonus for Korean
Veterans, New Terms
For Senators Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two state issues—both proposed constitutional amendments—will face Ohio voters next Tuesday.

One proposes a state bonus for veterans of the Korean conflict. The other would provide four-year instead of two-year terms for state senators.

The Korean bonus must be offered to the voters as a constitutional amendment because financing it requires a bond issue far in excess of Ohio's $750,000 debt limit as set by the Ohio Constitution.

If a majority of those voting on the Korean bonus proposal favor it, the state will be authorized to issue up to $90 million dollars in bonds. These would be retired by a special levy on real and personal property.

The bonus proposal provides payments of up to $400 to legal residents of Ohio who served in the armed forces between June 25, 1950, and July 1953. Those dates represent the beginning and ending of hostilities in Korea.

Payments would be $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign service—but with a $400 maximum. An estimated 280,000 veterans would be eligible for the payments.

Ohio provided similar bonuses for veterans of both World Wars. The World War I bonus bonds long since have been retired. But Ohio still owes about 100 million dollars on the 300-million-dollar World War II bonus.

Two years ago, Ohio voters rejected a constitutional change to give members of both Houses in the General Assembly four-year terms. The substitute proposal—to grant longer terms to members of the Senate only—is up for the voters' decision Tuesday.

But in 1960, senators in districts still with two-year terms would be elected to four-year terms. That also means half the Senate would stand for election every two years.

Backers of the four-year term proposal say it would give senators added prestige. They said most senators must campaign in several counties while their colleagues in the House make their races in a single county.

They also point out that U. S. senators serve six years while U. S. representatives are elected every two years.

Opponents say two-year terms for state senators should be continued because they make senators, as well as House members, more responsive to the will of the people.

County 'Stoar' Knows Good Thing

TURNERSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A fox retailer has displayed a sign atop his store here for many years that challenges the spelling of the King's English. It reads: "Hobin's Stoar."

Inside sits an affable Irishman, John Hobin, 77, who has long since become used to people stopping by to tell him how to spell "stoar."

They've come from as far away as New York. School children stop by to tell him it's misspelled.

But John's nobody's fool. The fading sign "Hobin's Stoar" has made his out-of-the-way estate a hometown throughout the state. People who otherwise would never have heard of Turnersville or Hobin have come by to see the sign.

Anyone for Brandy?

BRANDY STATION, Va. (AP)—Folks here are tired of straight "Brandy." They prefer "Brandy Station" which is the historic name of their community. Seems as if the railroad has been dropping the "station" from its listings and the post office followed suit. Now the villagers have unanimously voted for restoration of the full name of Brandy Station and the post office has promised to conform.

Hubcap Thief Fined, Jailed

Highland Countian Sentenced Here

Richard Snyder, 24, of Highland County, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in jail in Municipal Court Friday morning on his plea of guilty to unlawfully removing hubcaps, valued at $40, from a car owned by Harold Thompson, who filed the affidavit. Sixty days of the jail sentence were suspended by Judge Max G. Dice on condition that Snyder stay out of trouble in the future.

Snyder was arrested by Sheriff Orland Hays when he was released last week from jail at Hillsboro after completing sentence for a similar offense in Highland County.

Five Highland County teen-agers, arrested with Snyder, were placed on probation.

AFTER the six were questioned in Hillsboro by Deputy Sheriffs Don Thompson and Charles Hays and Washington C. H. Patrolman Hershel Taylor, both Sheriff Hays and Police Chief Vaiden Long expressed the belief that their arrest had broken up hubcap stealing ring that has been operating in Highland, Fayette and Ross counties for about two months.

Hays and Long said that, while some of the hubcaps and other parts had been taken from cars in Washington C. H., most of the thefts occurred in the county just outside the city limits.

Funeral Rites Held For Earl Cummings

Services for Earl Cummings, 66, who died Wednesday in his home on Lewis Pike, were held at 1 p.m. Friday in the Parrett Funeral Home. The Rev. Charles W. Ware, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, was in charge.

Palbearers were Daniel and Fred Woods, Ralph and John Cummings, Charles Farmer and Robert Campbell. Burial was in Washington Cemetery.

Israeli Victory

The surrender put the entire strip in Israeli hands and ended a 24-hour fight for the region. Israeli troops Thursday captured Rafah, the only other major center in the strip.

THE GAZA territory, a 25 by 8 mile finger of land separating the southern end of Israel from the Mediterranean, has long been a center of Israeli-Egyptian border troubles. Elimination of Fedayeen (commando) bases in the area was one of Israel's objectives in its thrust into Egypt Monday.

The British Air Ministry in London said Royal Air Force heavy and medium bombers were keeping up their nonstop strikes against the Egyptian air bases today.

"None of our aircraft has been reported missing," a British spokesman said.

Nasser hinted that the main body of Egypt's forces in the Sinai were being pulled back to defend the Suez Canal and the Nile Delta.

The French Defense Ministry said 105 Egyptian planes had either been destroyed or made unusable. By one unofficial estimate, this was about a fourth of the Egyptian air force.

The Israeli Embassy in Washington estimated Egyptian casualties (killed, wounded and captured) at 5,000. "Israeli casualties are relatively light," it added, "including less than 100 killed."

Egypt stepped up a guerrilla campaign. Israel said a large number of Fedayeen entered Israel's Negev desert Thursday night, blowing up a number of vehicles and irrigation pipes.

British and French naval units were reported closing in on both ends of the Suez Canal.

The two nations said they would occupy the canal points of Port Said, Suez and Ismailia, but insisted their occupation would be only temporary.

Fayette County's Nurses Must Renew Certificates

All Fayette County registered nurses are advised by the Ohio Board of Nursing Education and Registration that their applications must be made for renewal of certificates to practice by Dec. 1 this year, under a new Ohio law.

All other Ohio nurses in the same classification are being given the same warning. There are approximately 65 registered nurses in Fayette County and 20,000 is the estimated number in this state who will be affected by these requirements.

THIS IS the first time that Ohio registered nurses have been required to obtain these licenses due

(Continued from Page One) vately that the three nations would comply, since all had argued that their military operations must be carried through.

Should they fail to do so, the expectation was that a further proposal would be introduced for stronger action. Dulles' resolution provides for the Assembly to remain in emergency session pending compliance but no time was set for the next meeting.

The vote was 64-5 with 6 abstentions. Britain, France, Israel, Australia and New Zealand voted against the resolution. Canada, South Africa, Belgium, Laos, the Netherlands and Portugal abstained. Luxembourg was absent.

AMONG THOSE voting with the United States for its proposal were the seven-nation Soviet bloc, the 20 Latin-American nations, the 23-country Asian-African group and Scandinavia. The decision, shortly before 1:30 a. m., got 27 seconds' applause.

The Assembly met to deal with Israel's strike into Egypt last Monday and Britain's and France's air and naval actions since Wednesday aimed at occupation of the Suez Canal zone.

The emergency special session was called by the Security Council after British and French vetoes had killed U. S. and Soviet resolutions calling for withdrawal of the Israeli forces.

It was the first ever held under the "uniting for peace" resolution, which the United States got adopted in the 1950 General Assembly to bypass the Soviet veto.

That system allows charges of breach of the peace or aggression to be taken to the Assembly within 24 hours when the veto has frustrated the council.

The resolution adopted by the Assembly noted:

1. That Israeli armed forces "have penetrated deeply into Egyptian territory" in violation of the 1948 Egypt-Israel armistice agreement;

2. That French and British forces "are conducting military operations against Egyptian territory," and

3. That "traffic through the Suez Canal is now interrupted to the serious prejudice of many nations."

Estes Sure Adlai To Be Elected

SHARON, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today Adlai Stevenson's election is assured because "nothing has been done by President Eisenhower for distressed unemployment areas, or for the farmers."

The Democratic vice presidential nominee, pressing his party's windup attack on Republican "peace and prosperity" claims, charges that the Eisenhower administration followed a blueprint by New York bankers who Kefauver said regard "hard money" as paramount and "ignored the general's economic commitments to the mass of people."

News Briefs

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — A mysterious house on a wooded hill in Buda was opened today by rebel partisans. They said they found it equipped with a "torture chamber" operated by the secret police. Nationalist rebels said it was believed the villa was used for the brainwashing of important political prisoners such as Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

GYOER, Hungary (AP) — Western newsmen were shown today a secret crematory, said by anti-Communist rebels to have been used by the state police for victims who did not survive their interrogation methods.

Appeals Court Gives Views in Divorce Case

In reversing part of the decision by Judge John P. Case in Irene Lewis' suit from divorce from Earl Eugene Lewis, the Court of Appeals, in a decision filed here Friday morning, said it was willing to submit the question on which it held Judge Case had erred to the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Lewis was denied a divorce from her husband, who is in the West Virginia penitentiary for one to 10 years for automobile theft, but Judge Case assigned their children to the custody of the Juvenile Court for support and care.

Lewis offered no defense and the hearing was held on the petition by Mrs. Lewis. When Judge Case questioned Mrs. Lewis and learned that she had been guilty of misconduct during her husband's absence, he refused to hear further testimony, denied her the divorce, found that neither of the parents were proper persons to care for the minor children and turned them over to the Juvenile Court.

THE Court of Appeals overruled Mrs. Lewis' contention that the court could not properly question her and held that it was pertinent for the court to halt the testimony because the plaintiff must come into court with clean hands.

In reversing Judge Case's decision turning the children over to the Juvenile Court, the Court of Appeals decision noted that "Ohio cases are not in agreement on the power of a trial court, which has denied a divorce decree, to make an order relating to the custody and support of minor children."

Judge Case, after reading the Court of Appeals decision, commented that he hoped that one of the parties would take case to the Supreme Court for clarification.

The children were placed in temporary custody of their paternal grandparents, who live in Adams County.

Three Traffic Cases In Municipal Court

Three drivers were cited into Municipal Court Friday morning for traffic law violations.

One of them, Leo D. Crider, 58, Cincinnati, charged with driving 40 mph in the 25 mph zone on W. Court St., forfeited $10 bond.

Paul H. Brown, 27, Route 3, Mount Sterling, faced the court on two charges. He was fined $50 and costs or having no operator's license and $5 and costs for insufficient brakes.

Clarence E. Freshour, 74, was fined $5 and costs for driving 53 mph on Columbus Ave.

PUCO Orders Phone Firm To 'Show Cause' Next Week

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio today ordered the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. to show why it should not be ordered to provide emergency telephone service in Portsmouth, New Boston and Sciotoville.

Those communities in Scioto County have been without service since Oct. 16 when exchanges were shut down after stoning incidents.

The commission today ordered the company in for a public hearing next Wednesday.

One week ago the commission ordered the company to file a plan for setting up emergency service. Instead, the company challenged the commission's right to make such an order unless the company had a chance to be heard first.

Next week's hearing will give the company that chance. At a meeting Wednesday, the company flatly refused to provide emergency service unless it was assured there would be "ample" police protection for workers.

The order came as negotiations between the company and the striking Communications workers of America were to resume in Cleveland.

Frank A. Thernes, bargaining committee chairman of the CWA, said the union had accepted an Ohio Industrial Commission recommendation that issues in the 11-day strike be arbitrated.

Mixed comment continued to be heard on Gov. Frank J. Lausche's call for a special session of the Ohio Legislature to deal with the strike situation.

THE GOVERNOR called the session after the company refused to restore telephone service in the Portsmouth area, which has been without service 18 days.

A citizens group from Portsmouth had asked for the special session to consider legislation making arbitration compulsory in labor disputes and banning utilities strikes.

The governor's call for a special session Nov. 9 to ban strikes by utilities and require arbitration of grievances brought these comments:

Stat. Sen. Joseph W. Bartunek (D - Cuyahoga), Senate minority leader—"I think something like that ought to wait until the next regular session in January."

"There is a deep philosophical question involving peoples' rights. These matters should not be settled in an unduly hasty."

State Rep. James J. McGettrick (D - Cuyahoga), House minority leader—"The compulsory arbitration proposal 'might be all right.' As to the strike ban, 'I think the Legislature has no business in that field.'

State Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R - Athens), Senate majority leader—"The governor is simply passing the buck. There is sufficient legislation on the books for him to maintain law and order in the state of Ohio, if he honestly wants to. Legislation of that importance requires careful consideration and it could not be resolved in a day or two."

Mechem did not detail what he meant by "sufficient legislation on the books."

Woman Loses Appeal On Traffic Verdict

Municipal Court jury's verdict finding Dolores Carson guilty of driving while intoxicated was sustained by the Court of Appeals in a decision filed here Friday morning.

Mrs. Carson's appeal, based on her contention that she had twice been placed in jeopardy on the same charge, was overruled by the higher court.

When the defendant was first brought to trial on an affidavit filed Nov. 3, 1954, the jury failed to reach an agreement and the case was dismissed on motion of Mrs. Carson's counsel.

A new affidavit was then filed. A motion by Mrs. Carson to dismiss it on grounds that it placed her in jeopardy a second time was overruled by Judge Max G. Dice, and she was brought to trial and found guilty. It was this verdict that was sustained by the Court of Appeals.

Woman Returned Here On Embezzlement Count

Margaret Ashcraft, a former resident of Washington C. H., was returned here from Cincinnati Thursday night by Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays to answer to a charge of embezzling $45.56 from Violet Blackmore, her employer. The affidavit was signed by Mrs. Blackmore.

Sheriff Orland Hays said she will be arraigned in Municipal Court, probably this week.

Readers' Views on Schools, Water Service

EDITOR, RECORD - HERALD: There have been thousands of dollars spent by the Hiltz - Miami Trace faction and by the R.P.A. to bring before the voters of Fayette County two ideas: "We know all we need to know; give us the money", and "Clean the slate, account for the money spent, get the best advice before any building is done."

There is one point of agreement, as stated in the newspaper last (Wednesday) night by Paul Shepard. "Where do we stand in education? Near the bottom." Then why follow the very people who have led us to that position?

More than enough money has been spent by either side and more than enough time to have had the best of surveys. We have thrown away at least two years of our children's education time in the squabbling of adults. What has Miami Trace to gain by spending the money and the time without permitting a survey?

The great emotional strife that has existed in the rural schools has done untold damage to the children. They have had reason to lose respect and no building can be a successful school when that condition exists. Many children have dropped out of school because it was apparent to them that the adults were not sufficiently interested in them to provide the courses they needed.

One thing is certain: No teacher, no parent, no one is able to fool a child. If we don't build straightforward, sound citizenship in our children by the example of our own daily living, we will never be able to do it with a fancy building. We must look into our own conduct, we must know that the slate is clean, before any money is squandered on a building. Too many adults in this community have set themselves above the cause of the education of children. We have lost sight of the goal. As school administrators, parents, board members, and citizens, we have not met our obligation to the children of Fayette County.

I've never understood how we could brag about Fayette County being rich when so many of our children do not have sanitary facilities in the school buildings. That condition is inexcusable. Our greatest wealth is our children, not our land.)

We should build first within ourselves an attitude of cooperation and sound thinking before we try to bribe our children with a new building. I'm not a preacher, as you all know, but I believe we need more Christianity in our adult population before any building is planned. We haven't learned to live together.

A true story interested us in Iran, but the story has been repeated in many countries. (See bulletin, Technical Cooperation in Education, International Cooperation Administration, Washington 25, D. C.)

Last year 73 tribal schools for children of nomadic tribes were set up in tents and moved as the tribes migrated. Imagine a school in a black goat's - hair tent which moves when the tribe breaks camp in the morning, sets up for lunch at noon, moves during the afternoon, and establishes itself again along a stream in the evening. After seven months of schooling, all children passed the first grade examination, a large number passed the second grade tests, and some even passed the third grade. In seven months where there had never been school before! The tribal chieftains were so enthusiastic that they insisted upon eight hours of school a day seven days a week. Now educators are trying to find out why the children who attended school under such circumstances learned faster than those who went to regular school buildings.

Do we need inspiration and leadership or building?

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD: Let me tip my hat to Angie Osborne about the water situation. I think she is entirely right. If the taxpayer has to put his own water lines in and then keep them repaired, how is that the Ohio Water Service Co. can charge them a high and ridiculous price for the water. Any other cities the water service is only a fraction to what it is in this city. Not only that, but they also take care of any leaks or repairs on their side of the meter.

It seems in my case the more we tried to conserve on water the higher the bills went. One month in particular we were gone on vacation 10 days out of the month and the bill was higher than the previous month. Now does the Ohio Water Service Co. account for that?

It seems to me something should be done about the type of service we are getting. Don't get me wrong, I don't mind paying, but I'd like to get what I'm paying for.

After all the Water Service has everything to gain and hardly anything to lose. They don't have any repairs to make because we, the people of Washington, have to do that.

I can fully understand that they have to have more for their service because of the new water system, but 35 per cent who could ask that much of a raise from our employer?

I know the Public Utilities Commission granted them the raise. But the P.U.C.O. doesn't have to pay it either.

So I'm hoping that something can be done about this situation.

I suppose after the Ohio Water Service Co. reads this, I can look forward to much higher bills.

Again I repeat Mrs. Osborne, you are entirely right.

EDITOR, RECORD - HERALD: First let us review the history of what has been done to strengthen, unify and solidify our school district and why. In rural Fayette County there were formerly 11 local districts. Changes in the School Foundation Law which provided payments be made on a 30 pupil classroom basis instead of on a tuition basis, made it mandatory for each district to have its own high school. Obviously small districts could not provide these facilities economically, so consolidation was in order.

The opposition to the Miami Trace District rather strongly advocates a new Citizens Committee

now become the Miami Trace Local School District, which includes nearly all of rural Fayette County. What was lost in these mergers? We must all agree that the control of the school district is now spread over a wider area so that even though the board is composed of five able, honest and sincere men, still the closeness we once felt is somewhat removed. Remember though that we also have the County Board which means there are 10 men actually representing the people of the district; also the County Board has kept the district intact. Now what would further consolidation, namely with Washington C. H. mean? Local control would then slip farther from our touch — to just five members for the entire city and county. Surely those of you who had children in school before the consolidations can understand what I mean.

What has been gained by these mergers? We now have a school district which is large enough and wealthy enough to provide an educational program for our children which could be second to none in the State of Ohio. What we need so desperately now is a new high school — fully accredited, Class A. This can be a realization within two years and not be a lifetime burden on anyone. Such a plan is now being submitted to us for our sanction.

Has this plan been studied carefully? Is it one we can be proud of in years to come? Is it the most economical method for a solution? Quite a few of our friends, neighbors and former board members have spent countless hours gathering information and studying various plans and alternatives. Several experts and top men in the State Department of Education have been so consulted and have given their advice and suggestions. This has been brought to us in plan designed to give our children the opportunity to attend a high school which will offer quite an ample selection of curricula — from vocational agriculture and economics to the curriculum which will be offered, let us be aware that at the present time 62 different subjects — six complete courses — are offered at Jeffersonville. Incidentally, Jeffersonville High School is the only high school in this area offering both vocational agriculture and vocational home economics. Surely no thing less than this will be available in the new high school.

As to the cost of this proposal a cost and conservative one? We believe that the total cost of $1,652,500 which the county auditor has estimated can be retired in 21 years by an average millage of 2.58 mills will work no hardships. The R.P.A. keeps insisting that 2.58 mills will not retire the bonds and interest on $1,652,500. Again we can only say this millage was estimated by the county auditor and surely not by the R.P.A. First of all the over-crowding will be eliminated. Then these schools will have their own auditoriums and gymnasiums which very few elementary schools are fortunate enough to have. So you see, everyone gains — not in the same way but all will share in a broadened and more efficient educational program.

In conclusion — you know where

from the R.P.A. concerning the upgrading of tax valuations, inferring that such increases would also increase the cost of the bond issue to you. This can never be true. A bond issue votes a certain amount of money. In other words — a specific amount of money must be raised each year.

Now the county auditor again estimates the millage required to meet these obligations and simple arithmetic tells us that with an increased valuation less millage is required. In simple language — as the tax valuations go up the required millage goes down. The dollar paid by you remains the same.

Next the R.P.A. asks — could not the problem be solved with less expense to you if the tax base were broadened to the $60,000,000. Of the city and county? The tax base would be larger but definitely not broader. Actually the only way to arrive at the true wealth of a district is to figure the tax valuation in relation to the number of students. In other words, Miami Trace's $40,000,000 dollar tax base with approximately 2,800 pupils is far broader than $60,000,000 with approximately 5,000 pupils. Each pupil in Miami Trace is backed by about $14,000 while in the Washington City District each pupil is backed by about $9,000. Therefore a consolidation of two districts would mean that each pupil would be backed by about $12,000 or $2,000 less than at present for Miami Trace.

Another bone of contention by the R.P.A. is the $300,000, so-called hidden debt of the district. Just a few words of explanation — Olive, Chaffin, Wilson and Eber Schools were remodeled and enlarged before the consolidations to meet enrollment demands. When consolidations took place the other districts shared in this debt. Now did consolidation give to these other districts anything to compensate for this obligation? Taxes in the New Martinsburg district were lowered — Bookwalter has just this year been redecorated — Staunton and Jasper schools are to be modernized along with improvements at Marion.

This leaves the four high school centers — Good Hope, Madison Mills, Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville. These are the schools which will benefit most if a new high school becomes a reality. However, first of all the over-crowding will be eliminated. Then these schools will have their own auditoriums and gymnasiums which very few elementary schools are fortunate enough to have. So you see, everyone gains — not in the same way but all will share in a broadened and more efficient educational program.

She Gets 'Refund' In Race Horse Deal

CINCINNATI — Mrs. Mabel Russell's description of a race horse in which she said she bought a half interest brought her $750 default judgment in common pleas court Thursday.

The horse's name was Beech Line. She said she was told by Russell E. Thorson, defendant in the suit, it was so classy it "could win on only three legs."

"Did the horse ever run?" asked Judge Simon L. Leis.

"The first time out he ran last; he fell down," Mrs. Russell replied, adding:

Big Cleveland Newspapers Shut by Strike

CLEVELAND — This city's three large daily newspapers, which serve a population of well over a million, were shut down today.

Radio and television stations have expanded greatly the number and length of their newscasts.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, a morning newspaper, was "discontinued" until further notice by Forest City Publishing Co. Thursday night. The same company had discontinued its afternoon newspaper, the Cleveland News, late Thursday afternoon.

The Cleveland Press, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, stopped publishing because of a strike which began at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, called by the Press unit of the Cleveland Newspaper Guild.

The principal issue in an unsuccessful attempt to reach a new contract was a union demand for wage increases. Guild contracts at all three papers expired Wednesday night.

Shortly before the Press was struck, a mediator reported management had offered wage increases ranging from $3 to $6 this year and $2.50 and $4.50 next year.

Originally the guild's demands included wage increases of 22½ per cent, an increase in the minimum pay of experienced newsmen from $122.50 a week to $145 a week; and contract changes covering job security, union security and several fringe benefits. Later it reduced the demands to wage increases of $5 to $7.50 this year.

England, France and Israel Precipitate Crisis

Tension of a worldwide nature has increased to a dangerous degree, precipitating what appears to be an alarming crisis, as a result of Israel's invasion of Egypt plus England and France's sudden move to send planes and troops and other military units into the region surrounding the Suez Canal.

Russia, supplying arms to Egypt and probably other Arab countries, seems to be awaiting the opportunity to enter into the trouble.

The United States, as President Eisenhower stated in his brief talk to the American people Wednesday night, is still exercising every possible means to prevent a hot war of the shooting type and is insisting that the UN immediately take necessary steps to settle the difficulties.

England and France in their latest move, although restrained for several past weeks by the United States, cut loose suddenly on their own initiative without any warning to this country, thus endangering the situation further, although the United Nations organization has acted now to bring the crisis before its main body to take action to stop war, if possible.

The Suez Canal difficulties, which England and France regard as one of their life-lines for shipping and Egypt's recent action to take it over, are at the bottom of the whole trouble. There is great confusion over the whole situation.

What the Israelis wanted to do is to wreck Egyptian President Nasser and his plans. He is also disliked by England and France, but was the rallying point for Arab countries against Israel.

The effects of what the British and French did went far beyond their move to seize the canal. They ignored the United Nations, although pledged to work with and uphold the world organization.

From the moment that the Israeli government announced its troops had gone into Egypt, it was clear they were headed in the direction of the Suez Canal.

In a Mental Straitjacket?

NEW YORK (AP)—Famous folks often are asked what keeps them so young.

The secret seems to be that they don't always act their age.

Nothing really makes you feel and look older than your years than letting your calendar age put you in a mental straitjacket.

"When are you ever going to grow up?" is a rebuke often heard from the killjoys of this world.

If by growing up they mean when are you going to put away all childish pleasures and be really serious about everything, your answer should be a fervent, "Never, I hope!"

The trouble with people who always insist on being deadly serious is that they often become seriously dead before their time. No one could say that statesman Winston Churchill, financier Bernard Baruch, architect Frank Lloyd Wright or Casey Stengel, the leading exponent of world championship baseball, haven't done well in their respective fields. But they are all young old men. Why? Because each has kept alive in him a small boy's sense of fun.

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who quipped, "Oh, to be 70 again!" had the same quality. So did gentle Albert Einstein, father of the atom age.

The adult who feels he is wasting time unless he is always thinking high thoughts or doing important deeds is guilty of a greater waste. He commits a form of suicide. He murders the spirit of childhood in him, the child he once was and must somehow keep alive or else he'll turn forever old.

It works as simply as a formula: let the delight of childhood die within you, and you begin to wither, too.

And what does delight of childhood consist of? It consists of the feeling of joy you get in doing things, not because they are important, but because they are fun.

Celebrities, when they aren't busy being celebrities, often relax in pursuits that seem childish to the worldly dull. The smarter the celebrity the more likely he is to have this ability to forget his own importance now and then relive the pleasure of acting like a kid.

The moral is: If you want to feel like a kid, forget your dignity now and then and act like one!

By George Sokolsky

Hughes does not understand that these two generations are no more prisoners of the past than he is, but they have lived through a whole set of different experiences than he has to date.

Most of them, if they were in the Republican party in 1952, supported Robert A. Taft rather than Dwight D. Eisenhower, because they believed that Taft more closely represented traditional Republican liberalism than Eisenhower did. They interpret liberal democracy in the 19th century sense as a recognition of an increasing right of the individual human being to form the pattern of his life without hindrance by government.

This element of the Republican party lost in 1952; its leader, Robert A. Taft, died. The conservative Republicans, as most of them prefer to be designated, accepted the Eisenhower victory as a fact and hoped for the best.

Hughes, in his speech, asked this question:

"... which party seems less a prisoner of the past—and more a wise master of the future?..."

It is a very young question. Every young man and woman is a Marco Polo rediscovering what was always there. Youth attempts, in each generation, to disassociate itself from its past, only to find, as it grows into maturity, that the past is ever-present and cumulative. It is not so much a question of being a prisoner of the past, as needing to adjust oneself to the fact that at least four generations are currently alive in this country and that the oldsters grow more numerous as medicine and science keep them alive longer and that they have memories of a more comfortable era which their successors may never know.

And then there is the in-between generation, those who experienced the flapper age, the great inflation, the great depression and finally the sight of their sons going off to war as they had done a generation ago.

Emotional Conflict May Cause Headache

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Change your attitude, not your brand of aspirin, if you have frequent headaches.

Most headaches are caused by tension—emotional conflicts.

Hostile Impulses

These conflicts take on various forms. Some, many doctors say most, tension headaches are caused by hostile impulses. This includes resentment, hostility and aggression against members of the family or against persons representing family figures.

Such feelings of hostility, in turn, bring about feelings of guilt. And sometimes the sense of guilt is actually relieved by the headaches.

Some cases of tension headache can be traced directly to the desire for perfection, the constant hard striving to obtain it and the anger experienced when it isn't reached.

Still others can be linked to an unconscious wish to remain dependent upon someone. Or they may be a means of gaining love and affection.

In the vast majority of cases,

Grab Bag

The Answer Quick

1. In World War I, why did non-combatants save peach pits?

2. Who wrote many novels dealing with a group of English Midland cities known as the Five Towns?

3. What is the correct name for the institution known as "Boston Tech"?

5. What have these in common: Kimberly, Ladysmith, Praetoria, Mafeking, Spion Kop?

Your Future

Promotion may be in store for you in the year ahead, so do not let some provocation from an employee mar your good fortune. Use self-restraint if this matter arises. Today's child is likely to be persistent and courageous, also good-natured.

Watch Your Language

INCOLCULATE — (in-KUL-kate) —verb transitive; to teach and impress by frequent repetition or admonitions; to urge in the mind. Synonyms—instill, implant. Origin: Latin—Incolucere, past participle of Inculcare, to tread on, from in, in, on, plus calcare, to tread, from Caixa, the heel.

How'd You Make Out

1. To furnish the charcoal used in gas masks.

2. Arnold Bennett—1867-1931.

3. Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

5. All were major battles in the Boer war.

ROSS DAIRY BAR

some stress situation is involved.

An aspirin or two, or maybe an emollient compound tablet, followed by a second one an hour later, probably will bring temporary relief.

But for a more permanent cure, you've got to change your attitude. To put it simply, you've got to learn to relax.

Set aside a certain period every day to relax and do absolutely nothing. And don't try to cram too much housework or business activities into one day. Cut down on your work schedule.

Little Things

No one is perfect, you know, so stop insisting on perfection for yourself and others. Accept people as they really are, not as you would have them. Don't let little things upset you.

Some cases of tension headache can be traced directly to the desire for perfection, the constant hard striving to obtain it and the anger experienced when it isn't reached.

And remember, even today's big problems will seem relatively unimportant a month or week from now. Even by tomorrow, the picture probably will be brighter.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

W. B.: What is acromegaly?

Answer: Acromegaly is a chronic disease characterized by enlargement of bones and soft parts of hands, feet and face. It is associated with over-function of the pituitary gland.

Legal Lesson

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Bill Davis, an assistant U. S. attorney here, quotes this handy guide to courtroom practice:

"When the law's on your side, pound on the law. When the facts are on your side, pound on the facts. When nothing's on your side, pound on the table."

The Dutch do not store butter. They freeze cream and make butter from it as they need it.

Democrats Make Big Pitch For Votes in Ohio Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Democrats were making a last stand pitch for Ohio votes today with both Adlai Stevenson, the party's presidential nominee, and Estes Kefauver, its vice presidential candidate, in the state.

Stevenson was scheduled to ride through Cleveland in a motorcade at 12:30 p. m. speech at Public Square.

Kefauver was to appear on television in Youngstown and speak at a rally there. The Tennesseean also was to return to the state Monday for a final public appearance in Akron before his television program with Stevenson on election eve.

Meanwhile, the state's top Democratic candidates were in Cleveland Thursday night while U. S. Sen. George H. Bender campaigned for re-election in Dayton and C. William O'Neill, Republican nominee for governor, spoke in Youngstown.

Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, out to unseat Bender, his Republican opponent, went to his traditional meeting at the Moreland theater to dance to mid-European music. Democratic gubernatorial candidate Michael V. DiSalle was with him.

Later in a T.V. talk, Lausche said "it is a serious question determine under the facts who the aggressor is" in the Middle East crisis.

In Warren, Trumbull County GOP Chairman Jean Blair introduced O'Neill with the comment: "For the first time in a decade, I assume, we will be able to fill those jobs, some 40,000 to 50,000 (state posts), with Republican voters, if Bill (O'Neill) is elected."

A Cleveland Plain Dealer newsman, who reported Blair's comment, said O'Neill did not hear it.

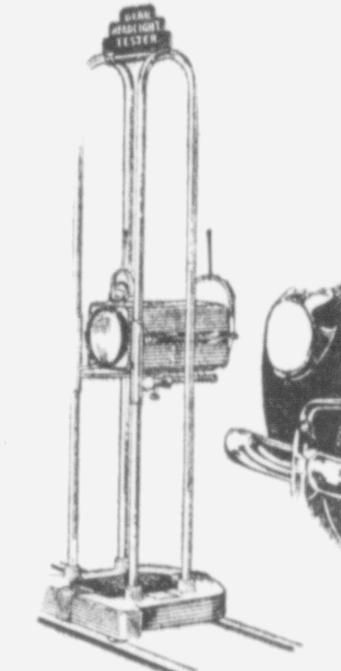

A three-man Ohio Democratic "fact-finders" team charged that the "over-all pattern" of O'Neill's record "is one of kow-towing to the wishes of the special interest groups..." while at the same time attempting to spoon-feed the public with platitudes about the "general welfare."

DiSalle and O'Neill are scheduled to meet Saturday in the Cleveland City Club's platform. The two were scheduled for an appearance Thursday night at the Cleveland Press Club, but O'Neill was unable to make it.

DiSalle told the club that O'Neill "voted against the Ohio Turnpike and against the gasoline tax to finance it (the turnpike), but he talks as if he would build highways at quite a pace."

DiSalle came out for a pension boost for retired teachers, for terminal pay for others leaving the teaching profession, for sabbatical leaves and state-shared medical insurance for teachers.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

THE signals are called, the ball is snapped, the game is on! Twenty-two alert men trained to perfection and timed to a fraction of a second. Yes, these fellows are keyed to a high fever of expectancy. The best athletes are the fellows who live the cleanest lives on the way up. The church helps greatly in preparing men morally for just such great tests. Yes, there are Two Groups of Substitutes on the sidelines but none quite ready to deliver. Neither is there any substitute for the influence of the Church in a man's life.

THERE is no substitute for character and morality, for integrity of soul. The supreme demand is for the genuine and the true. You and I are on the team for goodness and for God. Our friends, our neighbors and all our classmates expect us to be ready to play in true sportsmanlike manner. We can offer no substitute for our best. The church is a good place to learn His will for the game of life and on the gridiron. In the church we learn to live and play the Golden Rule way. Reverence and gratitude and devotion to a man's Highest Friend must be real. No substitute will do.

WSCS Members Hold Meeting at Garrison Home

The regular meeting of the Maple Grove W.S.C.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Garrison with fourteen members present.

Mrs. O. L. Eckle opened the meeting with devotions using as her topic for a reading "Volcanoes In Southeast Asia", an article "The Reason For Missions", which was followed with the singing of a hymn and Mrs. Eckle closed with a short talk on the Islands, and the great need for missionary work during the period of re-adjustment and closed with a prayer for missions.

The vice president, Mrs. Ralph Garrison, conducted the business session and following the usual reports a recent trip to Chillicothe Veteran's Hospital which included a treat to the veterans made by Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Fenton Graves, Mrs. Fred Freshour, Mrs. Floyd Rea, Mrs. Ralph Garrison, Mrs. Roy Garrison, Mrs. Marion Dawson and Mrs. C. L. Eckle, was reported by Mrs. Ralph Garrison.

Plans were made to contribute to the commissary at the hospital for Christmas gifts for the patients and the program in charge of Mrs. John Rowland consisted of contests with prizes going to Mrs. Otto Beatty and Mrs. Roy Garrison.

The meeting was closed with the society benediction and during the social hour the hostess served refreshments suggestive of Halloween.

BPW Members Attend Meeting In Greenfield

Eleven members of the Washington C. H. Business and Professional Woman's Club, motor'd to Greenfield Thursday evening to be guests of the Greenfield Club at a dinner meeting held in the Eastern Star Hall.

The president, Mrs. Joretta Mossbarger welcomed the guests and following the dinner, presided over a brief business session.

A Thanksgiving theme was carried out in the musical program which included two vocal solos "Bless This House" and "Believe" by Miss Sarah Sharp accompanied by Mrs. Olive Sharp, at the piano, who also accompanied for group singing led by Miss Sharp.

The guest speaker for the meeting was Mrs. Agnes Merritt of Columbus, who is Dean of the Girls State Program and also a teacher in the Columbus Public Schools.

Mrs. Merritt's most timely topic was "Interest In Legislation".

Members motoring down for the meeting were: Miss Mary Frances Snider, Mrs. William Rogers, Miss Ruth Sexton, Mrs. Paul Haines, Miss Helen Slavens, Mrs. Wilbur Wilson, Miss Edith Wilson, Miss Frances White, Miss Gretchen Darlington, Mrs. Doris Diffendal and Miss Jean Everhart.

Circle Members Hold Regular Morning Meeting

The regular meeting of Circle 1 of the Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church met in the Church House Thursday at 9:15 a.m.

A coffee hour was enjoyed preceding the meeting with nine members seated at one long table with Mrs. Herbert Clickner giving the invocation.

The meeting later was conducted by Mrs. L. M. Hayes and opened with the reading of an interesting article and offered prayer.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were given and approved and Mrs. Hayes reported on the executive board meeting.

Tickets were distributed to be sold for the smorgasbord to be served at the church, November 14 and the Bible study on the ninth and tenth lessons on Ephesians was conducted by Mrs. Herbert Clickner and a discussion followed.

A program on "Thailand" was in charge of Mrs. Omar Schwartz, Jr., and the meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Personals

Mrs. Fanny Johnson is spending this week in Columbus, as the guest of her son, Mr. Homer B. Johnson, Mrs. Johnson and family.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred D. Woollard have returned from Columbus where they attended a meeting of the Ohio Dental Association held at the Neil House from Sunday through Wednesday.

Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Orris Riley, Mrs. Floyd Rea, Mrs. Marion Dawson and Mrs. O. L. Eckle, made up a party on Thursday to tour the Spring Hill Nurseries at Tipp City.

Ladies Luncheon Enjoyed Thursday At Country Club

Thirty-six members enjoyed the ladies luncheon bridge at the Washington Country Club and one guest was included.

Decorations in the club lounge were arrangements of roses which predominated and other fall flowers added to the attractive setting.

Bouquets of roses centered the tables seating the group for a delightful luncheon hour and the afternoon was pleasantly spent in the progressive game which was concluded with the presenting of awards to Mrs. Clarence E. Craig who was the holder of high score, Mrs. L. C. Coffman and awards in special games went to Miss Mary Barnes and Mrs. Willis Coffman.

Mrs. Stanley Chitty was included as a guest and out-of-town members present were Mrs. W. W. Trovillo, Mrs. Ralph Whaley of Frankfort and Mrs. Aubin Hedges of Hillsboro.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Francis Haines, chairman, Mrs. Darrell Weinrich and Mrs. M. J. Whitfield who were also assisted by Mrs. Robert Edge.

An eggplant that weighs about a pound, and is often called medium-sized, is good for stuffing when four persons are to be served.

Plans are being made for Thanksgiving Fellowship Supper at the home of Mrs. Penwell on Nov. 20, and a meeting at the home of Mrs. C. B. Tillis Nov. 6 to make dolls for Christmas gifts will be preceded by a covered dish dinner.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served seasonal refreshments.

Mrs. Wilson Is Honored At Layette Shower

Mrs. Robert D. Creamer, Mrs. Max Lawrence and Mrs. Frank Pope, combined hospitalities at the home of Mrs. Creamer, Thursday evening, when they entertained at a layette shower honoring Mrs. Maynard Wilson, upon the arrival of a son, Mark David.

Fall flowers were used throughout the home and a dainty pink and white color scheme predominated on the gift table which was centered with a bunny.

Upon the arrival of the guests, a tempting dessert course was served at small tables and following the opening of the gifts by Mrs. Wilson assisted by little Miss Cinda Lou Graves, daughter of the hostess and the gracious acknowledgement, bridge and canasta were enjoyed.

At the conclusion of play Mrs. Lona Moore, received the high score award in bridge and Mrs. Robert Whitfield was presented with the trophy for high score in canasta.

The invited guest list included: Mrs. Robert P. Wilson, Mrs. Tom Hodson, Mrs. Robert Boyd, Mrs. Donald Moore, Mrs. Robert Whitfield, Mrs. Eugene Heath, Mrs. Eddie McCoy, Mrs. James McCoy, Mrs. Guy Biggs, Mrs. Frank Weade, Mrs. Thurl Campbell, Mrs. Langdon McCoy, all of this city; Mrs. Jack Flynn, Mrs. Thomas Flynn and Mrs. Joe Hidy of Greenfield and Mrs. William A. The Bookwalters Willing Workers assembled at the home of Mrs. Bernard Edwards for the regular meeting with fourteen members present.

Mrs. Oglia Fradd, president, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Russell Garringer led in the devotions.

The secretary, Mrs. Clayton Whiteside, gave her report and Mrs. Dan Warner, treasurer, also gave her report.

A committee composed of Mrs. Dan Warner and Mrs. Clayton Whiteside was appointed to arrange to send boxes to boys in the service for Christmas.

The meeting was adjourned and during the social hour, Mrs. Edwards was assisted by Mrs. Ervin Grace and Mrs. Raymond Geer in the serving of seasonal refreshments.

Spaghetti Outsell Beans in 'Beantown'

BOSTON (AP) — Boston may be known as the "Bean Town" to outsiders but the truth of the matter is, according to the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce — Spaghetti outsells baked beans by three to one in Boston.

Massachusetts firms annually manufacture 20 million dollars worth of macaroni products some of which are exported to Italy, the Chamber of Commerce adds.

Chocolate sauce, to be served over ice cream, usually stores well in a tightly covered container in the refrigerator. Nice to keep on hand!

To simmer a food, means to cook in liquid just below the boiling point. Bubbles should form slowly and break just below the surface of the liquid.

270 Fayette Precinct Officials Ready for Duty

It will take 270 men and women to conduct Tuesday's election in Fayette County. In addition there will be the cost of printing the ballots, eight of them all told, and such incidentals as electricity and janitors to clean up the debris in the Courthouse basement around the Board of Elections office.

The presiding judge, three judges and two clerks in each precinct will receive the same compensation, $12 for the 12-hour day at the polls.

However, the presiding judges will be paid, on a mileage basis, for getting the ballots and returning them, with the results, after the election, to the Board of Elections office. This additional pay varies, but averages about $3 for each of the 45 voting precincts in the city, villages and county.

THERE IS NO charge for some of the polling places (those in public buildings, such as township halls and schools), but the rental for the day for the space in private homes runs about $10 each.

The bill for the printing of the ballots is not yet in and pay for the clean-up work cannot be figured until the janitors turn in their time.

The polls will open at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday and close at 6:30 p.m., but when the election officials will actually finish their task of counting the votes is conjectural and dependant, to a large degree, on the number of votes cast and the speed and efficiency of the tabulators.

There will be six election officials, three Democrats and three Republicans, in each precinct; the presiding judge (first on the following list), three judges (listed next) and two clerks (last on the list):

Boy Uses Gum On Stick To Steal $500

DETROIT — A 16-year-old boy was accused today of sticking a wad of chewing gum on the end of a stick and flinging 10 $50 bills from a bank drawer through the barred window of the teller's cage.

Raymond L. Siebert of Detroit, a Negro, stood mute when arraigned before Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman Thursday on charge of violating the Federal Juvenile Act.

George E. Woods, chief assistant U.S. attorney, quoted the youth as saying, "I just can't resist it when I see money laying around."

Woods said Siebert tricked the woman teller into leaving the cage by asking her to check on a 50-cent service charge levied against his account.

The teller remembered the boy's unexplained disappearance when she discovered the shortage at the end of the day.

An FBI agent said the boy was found at the boy's home.

Convicted Slayer Seeks New Trial

COLUMBUS (AP) — Homer Jack Dean, convicted six years ago for the murder of a Columbus real estate man, has asked for a new trial.

Dean is now in Franklin County Jail awaiting developments. He was released from Ohio Penitentiary Tuesday after it was discovered papers committing him to prison never were signed by the trial judge.

Dean was sentenced in 1950 in the 1947 slaying of Elmo Rice.

FAYETTE COUNTY SCHOOL FACTS NO. 11

DO YOU WANT THE

WILL YOU PAY THE

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES

NOW FIGURE WHAT IT WILL COST YOU!

Take the time to figure what the proposed Miami Trace school will cost you. Following is an example, study it and then use your figures on which you pay taxes.

200 acres of land at $90 per acre	$18,000
Taxable valuation on farm buildings	$12,000
$12,640 machinery, livestock, hay, grain at 50%	$6,320
Total taxable valuation	$36,320

Miami Trace proposed millage is $2.58 per thousand so $36.32 \times 2.58 = $93.71$ ADDITIONAL tax per year
 $93.71 \times 21 \text{ years} = $1,967.91$ ADDITIONAL tax for the life of the Miami Trace bonds.

When your income from livestock and grain becomes greatly reduced due to crop failures, declining prices or depression will you still have to pay the same number of dollars?

YES, even if you have to mortgage the farm to do it.

Does this present bond issue for $1,652,500 plus interest of over $600,000 cover school operating expenses?

NO, there must be unknown additional taxes levied later.

What can you do to prevent this wasteful spending of your farm income?

Vote against the Miami Trace bond issue.

Wilson PTO Plans Supper on Nov. 7

Plans for a supper to be served at the Wilson School Nov. 7 were completed at this week's Parent-Teacher Organization meeting. Proceeds are to go into the PTO fund for providing "extras" for the pupils.

President Frank Weade read a letter from the teachers expressing appreciation for the new merry-go-round for the playground and other things purchased for the school by the PTO committee.

There were games and a Halloween costume contest.

Masquerade winners were: First grade — Linda Calendar, Stephen Self and Rebecca Fryer; Second grade — Julia Brunner, Roseanne Shultz and Chris Bower; Third grade — Ruth Ann Miller, Dee Dews and Mike Smith; Fourth grade — Patricia Johnson, Johnnie Mick and Johnny Caplinger; Fifth grade — Lynne Payne, Allan Hanes and Julie Rankin; Sixth and seventh grades — Rose Mary Caplinger, Joella Wilson and Susan Torbert.

The party was brought to a close by the serving of ice cream and cookies.

Dow Finsterwald Improvement Hailed

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald, in his second full tourney year, and Marlene Bauer Haggie were named "most improved professionals" of 1956 by Golf Digest magazine Thursday.

Finsterwald, 27, climbed from a 14th finish among 1955 money-winners to second behind Ted Kroll this year. Through the Western Open, Finsterwald, a slender 155-pounder, had earned $28,113 compared with $15,386 last year.

Federal government employment in Colorado is 33,200. This is more than the state's mining industry payroll.

Halloween Party At Wilson School

Pupils of Wilson School had their own Halloween celebration, but it was in the form of a party at the school.

The teachers and a committee of the Parent-Teacher Organization were the hosts and hostesses. Mrs. Paul Keefer was chairman of the PTO committee.

The group is making plans for a "soc - hop." Money raised from the dance will be used towards induction ceremonies and reception of new members.

The aims of the society are to recognize and encourage outstanding scholarship, character, leadership and service. Members are on the basis of such qualities after recommendation by teachers. Only 15 per cent of a graduating class may belong to the group.

Present members are Linda Sue Anderson, Wilma Jo Brown, Sandra Lee Cook, Sarah Core, Joann Acton Jacobs, Natalie McLean, Margaret Ann Meriweather, Judith Ann Preston, Nancy Carol Reno, Wanda Lee Tracey and Howard Webb Ellis.

Washington High Honor Student Unit Elects Officers

The Washington High School chapter of the National Honor Society has named the following officers: Webb Ellis, president; Linda Anderson, vice president; Sarah Core, secretary; Ann Meriweather, treasurer.

Concert Season Opener Just Three Weeks Away

Three weeks from tonight Rey and Gomez, Spanish dancers, will open the tenth Community Concerts season in Washington C. H.

The annual Community Concerts membership campaign, under way this week, will close Saturday evening. More than 50 workers throughout Washington C. H., Fayette County and surrounding communities have been busy obtaining renewal memberships and signing up new members for the forthcoming series.

"You must obtain your membership by closing time Saturday evening or you will not be able to enjoy the three entertaining concert attractions to be presented" Robert Parish, president of the concert association said Friday. The president suggested that "everyone stop in at the concert headquarters at the First Federal Savings & Loan, or phone 41791 and a work-

Majority of Ohio Editors Like Ike, Bender, O'Neill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's newspaper editors overwhelming support the re-election of President Eisenhower, and GOP Sen. George H. Bender and the elevation of Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill to the governor's office.

This was made apparent today by the results of an Associated Press survey of an even 100 Ohio newspapers.

Not every newspaper replying to the AP's questionnaire made endorsements in every one of the three major races in Ohio and some made no editorial endorsement at all. There were eight in the latter group.

Of the 100 newspapers which replied, 58 listed themselves as normally leaning to the Republican cause, 12 leaning to the Democrats and 30 declared themselves politically independent.

The survey showed that 81 of the 90 editors who made an endorsement in next Tuesday's presidential race prefer President Eisenhower over his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson.

Sen. Bender got the nod from 52 of the 80 editors who made a choice in the senate race. But of the 28 endorsements received by his Democratic opponent — five-term Gov. Frank J. Lausche — 21 came from newspapers which are supporting Eisenhower and O'Neill.

O'Neill has the endorsement of 78 of the 87 newspapers which made a recommendation in the gubernatorial contest. Democratic candidate Michael V. DiSalle, like Stevenson, won nine endorsements from the 100 newspapers which replied.

Replies were received from 44 daily newspapers — 13 in the so-called metropolitan group — and from 56 weekly newspapers.

In the big-city group, only the Toledo Blade is backing Stevenson and DiSalle. Eisenhower has the support of 12 and O'Neill is backed by 11. But the gap narrows on the senate race, where Bender has an 8-5 edge over Lausche.

Huge Tax Claim Filed against Firm

CANTON (AP) — A tax lien for $1,050,207 has been filed here against the Muskingum Coal Co. and its subsidiaries, Jones Motor Sales, Inc., and Earl J. Jones Enterprises, Inc., of Zanesville.

Earl J. Jones of Zanesville controls all three firms. Earl J. Jones Enterprises includes the Massillon Independent newspaper.

The government said the lien, filed in the Stark County recorder's office, is for unpaid federal income taxes for the years 1952 through 1955.

Eclipse of Moon Slated for Nov. 18

CINCINNATI (AP) — There will be a total eclipse of the moon Nov. 18 but Ohioans will have to stay up late and from 56 weekly newspapers.

In the big-city group, only the Toledo Blade is backing Stevenson and DiSalle. Eisenhower has the support of 12 and O'Neill is backed by 11. But the gap narrows on the senate race, where Bender has an 8-5 edge over Lausche.

Five big papers which support Eisenhower and O'Neill are backing Lausche. They are the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Cleveland

Press, the Youngstown Vindicator, the Akron Beacon Journal and the Columbus Citizen. The Toledo Blade endorsements are diametrically the opposite — Stevenson, George H. Bender and the elevation of Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill to the governor's office.

Eight of the metropolitan newspapers which replied listed themselves as independent; the other five listed Republican leanings.

Among the 31 smaller-city daily newspapers which replied to the survey, six made no endorsements at all. Eighteen said they were Republican, four said they leaned to the Democratic side and nine said they are independent. Of those who expressed preferences, this was the score:

Eisenhower 22, Stevenson 2
Bender 13, Lausche 7.
O'Neill 22, DiSalle 2.
Again in this group, six newspapers which are backing both Eisenhower and O'Neill jumped the political fence to endorse Lausche.

Fifty-six weekly newspapers replied, but two made no endorsements, they reported. In this group of newspapers are 35 which call themselves Republican, 8 which list themselves as Democratic and 13 which say they are independent.

The trend established among the dailies holds for the weeklies.

President Eisenhower got 47 of the 53 endorsements in next Tuesday's top race; Stevenson got the other six. Bender outscorers Lausche, 31-16, but again it must be noted that 9 of Lausche's 16 endorsements came from newspapers supporting Republicans in other races.

An oddity of the results was this: Stevenson and DiSalle got exactly the same number of endorsements — in the overall total and in each newspaper group. Each got 9, one each from the big city dailies, two each from small-city dailies and six each from the weeklies.

The case, said Danaceau, "is now a closed incident."

The

Methodist Rally At Xenia Monday

Bishop and Mrs. Hazen G. Werner

Methodist of the 211 churches of the Dayton and Wilmington districts of the denomination will meet Monday evening, in the Xenia Methodist House for a mass rally.

Bishop Hazen G. Werner, Ohio area resident bishop, will present the Methodist program for the quadrennium beginning in 1956 and ending in 1960.

The four arms of the "Advance Program" which Bishop Werner will outline will be the new Methodist Theological Seminary in Ohio, the camp-site needs of the two districts, church extension projects within the two districts and special missionary projects in Southeast Asia.

Mrs. Werner will present an illustrated review of the missionary projects which the Ohio area will support during the quadrennium. Bishop and Mrs. Werner made an extended visit of the mission work in European and Asian countries leaving America in November 1955, and returning in February 1956.

OHIO'S NEED for a new Methodist seminary will be outlined by Bishop Werner as the major emphasis for Ohio Methodist during the next four years.

"We are ready now to move toward the accomplishment of this task," he said as he spoke of the proposed four-million-dollar seminary which has a target date of 1960.

The provisional organization for the Methodist theological school in Ohio has been formed. Persons of unmistakable and superb leadership have accepted positions of high responsibility in the undertaking. The new Methodist seminary will set the course of our ministry for the next 100 years," Bishop Werner stated.

The provisional organization for the establishment of the new theological school in Ohio held its first meeting Sept. 22 in Columbus. Members of the 96-man organization came from the episcopal areas of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, and Louisville.

THE METHODIST General Conference authorized the establishment of two new theological schools at its recent meeting held in Minneapolis, Ohio and the Kansas-Ne-

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

While most New Hollanders were totally unconscious of the fact, a battle to the death took place right in their midst a few days ago and the killers robbed the dead of all their earthly possessions.

It all happened when Bob Lewis, New Holland real estate man, purchased an old house on Allen Ave., in New Holland, planning to remodel it.

He discovered that no less than three swarms of bees had long resided in the house, and apparently had filled a great deal of space between the weatherboarding and plastering, with a huge store of honey.

It was not long until "robber bees" arrived on the scene, and a battle to the death between the robber bees and the few that had escaped the gas, was on.

Thousands of bees flocked to the house, and after the owners of the honey, few in number compared from other swarms, with the honey seekers had been disposed of, the store of honey was carried away within a few days, and will do much toward saving many colonies of bees in the New Holland community.

WONDERFUL DAHLIAS

Mrs. Charles Wagner has been displaying a large bouquet of exceptionally choice dahlias, of the shaggy type, which was given to her by Mrs. Emma Barchet, of East St., who raised them in her garden.

Mrs. Barchet has been growing some choice flowers for 10 years, and is always very generous with them. Perhaps that is why she has such good luck with her flowers.

In those days it was quite the thing to allow livestock to run loose on the highways to graze at the roadside, but today it is a violation of law for livestock to run at large on the highways. For every automobile is a potential "cowcatcher", and when car meets cow, serious results frequently occur.

Flames were licking high above the building on S. Main St. late in the night, and soon the Washington Fire Department was on the scene, laying hose and preparing to pour water into the building.

A large crowd collected, but there was no water poured into the building and firemen retreated, disgusted, because someone had turned on a fire alarm when they saw flames shooting from the cupola of the George Swope Machine Shop and Foundry where the G. D. Baker & Son Road Construction Co. plant is now located.

The shop even repaired bicycles. Harry, who resides on S. Fayette St., recalls that it was so cold in the casting room during the winter that he wore felt boots to keep his feet warm.

Buckeye Grid Spotlight on Bowling Green

High-Flying Falcons
Due To Tangle with
Mighty Miami '11'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Buckeye State's collegiate football spotlight Saturday will swing directly to Bowling Green.

There the high-flying Falcons, on the upsurge under the deft handling of Coach Doyt Perry, will try to knock Miami's defending champions off the Mid-American Conference throne.

For 11 straight games the Redskins have triumphed over the Bee-Gees, turning the trick last year by 7-0 to shove Bowling Green into a second-place tie in the rugged circuit.

This year the two powerhouses go into the game with identical 4-0 records, with the title riding on the outcome. All the others in the loop have dropped at least two games.

Bowling Green, in four league tilts, has outscored the Bee-Gees 109-37, and Miami has an 84-35 advantage. The Falcons are tops in the loop on offense with a 37-yard average, and on defense with 138. Miami is second in each category, with figures of 326 and 233.

In the nine years Miami has been a member of the Mid-American, the Redskins have never lost a game to a team now holding membership in the loop. They've won 32, lost 3 and tied one league game over that stretch, and in the last two years chalked up victories over Indiana and Northwestern of the Big Ten.

But the Bee-Gees are out to end the Miami monopoly under Perry, who has a record of 14 wins, one loss and one tie for his two campaigns at Bowling Green. The Falcon mentor is the first Bowling Green grad to coach the Bee-Gees, having quarterbacked the 1929-30 teams through an 18-game winning streak.

Since starting football in 1919, Bowling Green has never enjoyed an unbeaten-untied season. Miami has had six of 'em since 1889, and was unbeaten but tied in five others. The 1917 team was perfect, winning all its games by shutouts.

The Miami-Bowling Green classic is the headliner of a 23-game Saturday slate involving the Ohio colleges.

Dayton, which lost 26-13 to Xavier last week for its fourth straight loss—first time since 1923 the Flyers have bowed four times in a row—meet Louisville in a night game. The Flyers are counting on Don (Butch) Zimmerman, southpaw quarterback who has been out for five games, to get them back on the victory trail.

In the Mid-American, Toledo invades Kent State, and Ohio U. goes to Western Michigan, to decide the lower spots in the standings—with Ohio U. seeking its first win in seven starts.

Other games include Akron at Oberlin, Marietta at Capital, Heidelberg at Mount Union, Muskingum at Otterbein, and Wittenberg at Wooster, all in the Ohio Conference.

Bluffton at Ashland in the Mid-Ohio League, with Bluffton needing a win to wrap up the undisputed title; Western Reserve at John Carroll in the Presidents Conference; Denison at Ohio Northern, and Ohio Wesleyan at Baldwin Wallace in non-conference contests; and interstate games sending Bethany to Hiram, Kenyon to Hamilton, Defiance to Taylor, Findlay to Waynesburg, Wilmington to Earlham, Detroit to Cincinnati, Colorado A & M. to Xavier, Case Tech to Edinboro, Pa., Teachers, and Marshall to Youngstown.

NEW YORK (AP)—After a sparse opening week schedule of seven games, the National Basketball Assn. swings into fulltime operation Saturday.

The Syracuse Nationals, eastern division leaders with a 2-0 record, will be in Buffalo to meet the St. Louis Hawks, top club in the west with a 1-0 mark.

In other contests, the New York Knickerbockers visit the Boston Celtics, Fort Wayne's Pistons play the champion Philadelphia Warriors and the Minneapolis Lakers take on the Rochester Royals.

The Lakers knocked over the Royals, 97-88, in Johnstown, Pa., in the only game played Thursday.

Marion Said In Line for 2 Pilot Jobs

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Marty Marion has been out of a job only eight days and already there's talk about him managing two other major league ball clubs.

The 38-year-old Marion was dropped as manager of the Chicago White Sox after piloting them to a third-place finish in the American League.

One rumor had it Marion and Al Lopez, manager of the second-place Cleveland Indians, were to swap jobs. Lopez was named manager of the White Sox.

Leo Durocher's name popped into the Cleveland picture but he turned it down. Marion was back in front again.

The Globe-Democrat said today it learned from a reliable source Marion might come back to the St. Louis Cardinals, with Manager Fred Hutchinson moving over to Cleveland.

Marion, one-time "Mr. Shortstop" of the Redbirds, said on a television show Thursday night: "I don't know anything about it."

The Globe quoted its source as saying the Marion - Hutchinson move was being discussed by the two clubs.

It pointed to the fact that General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians and Hutchinson were teammates at Detroit while Marion and Cardinal General Manager Frank Lane were associated with the White Sox.

No Politics Being Talked At Olympics

MELBOURNE (AP)—There seemed to be an unspoken agreement on all sides not to discuss politics or world affairs today as the athletes moved into the homelike atmosphere of the Olympic Village.

More than 300 athletes are now living in the village and more are arriving daily. But seldom is a word heard about the Middle East and Eastern Europe situations.

Wednesday night the first Dutch contingent arrived. Three Poles moved into the village Thursday and a contingent of 11 Swedes was due today.

The first Soviets are expected today and the Americans Nov. 8.

There is a special dining room for the Americans.

Told that Americans like steak, the manager said, "We could give them all six steaks three times a day if they like. We're here to give them anything they want."

We've had our best cattle especially set aside to provide the meat to feed the athletes at these games and we have a great supply of 14-ounce steaks."

In the dining room for Oriental teams, there is complete American cuisine including ricebowls, small tea cups without handles and chopsticks.

Nationalist China will have tables in different rooms.

A Big Ten record set in 1902 still holds. It was a football score: Michigan 107, Iowa 0.

WHS Squad Meets Hilliards Tonight

The Blue Lions are ready and waiting to meet Hilliards Friday night at Gardner Park.

After a week of hard practice, the team is up and anxious to bring their 3-4 record up to the .500 mark. Some bruises and colds continue to linger among the squad members, but Coach Fred Domenico expects everyone to be well enough to play.

MEANWHILE, the Washington Junior High 11 is celebrating its 14-7 victory over Chillicothe West Fifth Thursday afternoon at Gardner Park.

Pheasants Found In Home; Man Fined $1,000, Costs

Charged with possession of five cock pheasants which he allegedly shot from an automobile on Palmer Rd., five miles west of Washington C. H., Lewis V. Morris, 45, Route 2, Wilmington, was fined a total of $1,000 and costs by Mayor Alva Stephens of Port William.

them, Hayes, he said, told him only last week that both Sommers and Anders are "doing all right" and added that he was counting on them.

IN SUPPORT OF this, was his selection of both Sommers and Anders for the squad of 15 freshmen to scrimmage with the Varsity.

Domenico recalled that Sommers weighed about 208 lbs last year with the Lions, but said he was down to around 200 pounds now. Anders is lighter at 186 pounds, unusually light for that position in the Big Ten.

In Domenico's opinion, it is their love of the game, their love of rough and tumble contact, and aggressive desire that makes them good football players. Of Morris, his high school coach said his agility and ability to defend opponents' plays made up for what he may lack in weight.

Both boys are regarded as equally good on either offense or defense.

Both are at Ohio State on athletic scholarships which provide jobs through which they can pay part of their expenses for an education.

Sommers is the son of Mrs. Lilian Sommers, 428 Forrest St., a teacher at the Eastside School.

Anders is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anders, 1019 S. Hindle St.

Washington (AP)—Henry Brown and Paoli Rosi, both undefeated this year, clash tonight in a 10-round, you-pick-it lightweight bout at Capitol Arena.

Brown, nicknamed the Toothpick because of his skinny structure, is looking for his third straight knockout of 1956 but isn't likely to find the 28-year-old Rosi as easy a mark as his two previous opponents. The Philadelphia youngster finished each of them in one round.

Rosi, a balding Italian now living in the Bronx, has won 22 of his 25 recorded fights, 10 by KO.

2 State Issues To Face Ohio Voter Tuesday

Bonus for Korean Veterans, New Terms For Senators Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two state issues—both proposed constitutional amendments—will face Ohio voters next Tuesday.

One proposes a state bonus for veterans of the Korean conflict. The other would provide four-year—instead of two-year—terms for state senators.

The Korean bonus must be offered to the voters as a constitutional amendment because financing it requires a bond issue debt in excess of Ohio's $750,000 debt limit as set by the Ohio Constitution.

If a majority of those voting on the Korean bonus proposal favor it, the state will be authorized to issue up to 90 million dollars in bonds. These would be retired by a special levy on real and personal property.

The bonus proposal provides payments of up to $400 to legal residents of Ohio who served in the armed forces between June 25, 1950, and July 1953. Those dates represent the beginning and ending of hostilities in Korea.

Payments would be $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign service—but with a $400 maximum. An estimated 280,000 veterans would be eligible for the payments.

Ohio provided similar bonuses for veterans of both World Wars. The World War I bonus bonds long since have been retired. But Ohio still owes about 100 million dollars on the 300-million-dollar World War II bonus.

Two years ago, Ohio voters rejected a constitutional change to give members of both Houses in the General Assembly four-year terms. The substitute proposal—to grant longer terms to members of the Senate only—is up for the voters' decision Tuesday.

In 1960, senators in districts still with two-year terms would be elected to four-year terms. That also means half the Senate would stand for election every two years.

Backers of the four-year term proposal say it would give senators added prestige. They said most senators must campaign in several counties while their colleagues in the House make their races in a single county.

They also point out that U. S. senators serve six years while U. S. representatives are elected every two years.

Opponents say two-year terms for state senators should be continued because they make senators, as well as House members, more responsive to the will of the people.

County 'Stoar' Knows Good Thing

TURNERSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A foxy retailer has displayed a sign atop his store here for many years that challenges the spelling of the King's English. It reads: "Hobin's Stoar."

Inside sits an affable Irishman, John Hobin, 77, who has long since become used to people stopping by to tell him it's misspelled.

But John's nobody's fool. The fading sign "Hobin's Stoar" has made his out-of-the-way establishment known throughout the state. People who otherwise would never have heard of Turnersville or Hobin have come by to see the sign.

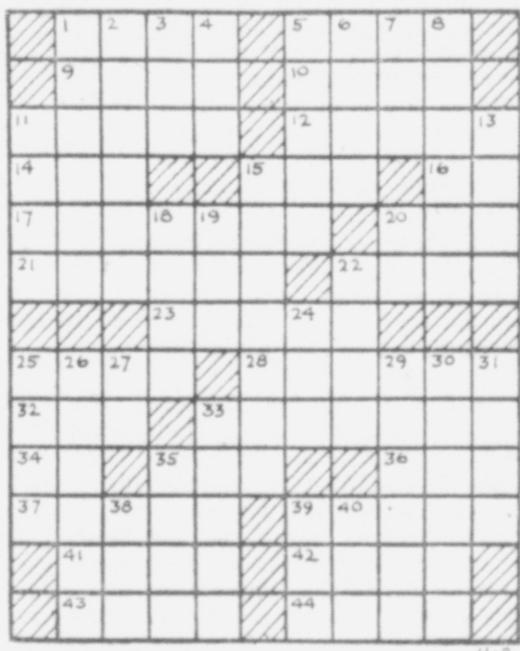

Anyone for Brandy?

BRANDY STATION, Va. (AP)—Folks here are tired of straight "Brandy." They prefer "Brandy Station" which is the historic name of their community. Seems as if the railroad has been dropping the "station" from its listings and the post office followed suit. Now the villagers have unanimously voted for restoration of the full name of Brandy Station and the post office has promised to conform.

IS LONG FELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Fayette County's Nurses Must Renew Certificates

All Fayette County registered nurses are advised by the Ohio Board of Nursing Education and Registration that their applications must be made for renewal of certificates to practice by Dec. 1 this year, under a new Ohio law.

All other Ohio nurses in the same classification are being given the same warning. There are approximately 65 registered nurses in Fayette County and 20,000 is the estimated number in this state who will be affected by these requirements.

THIS is the first time that Ohio registered nurses have been required to obtain these licenses due

Anthony Eden

(Continued from Page One) vated that the three nations would comply, since all had argued that their military operations must be carried through.

Should they fail to do so, the expectation was that a further proposal would be introduced for stronger action. Dulles' resolution provides for the Assembly to remain in emergency session pending compliance but no time was set for the next meeting.

The vote was 64-5 with 6 abstentions. Britain, France, Israel, Australia and New Zealand voted against the resolution. Canada, South Africa, Belgium, Laos, the Netherlands and Portugal abstained. Luxembourg was absent.

AMONG THOSE voting with the United States for its proposal were the seven-nation Soviet bloc, the 20 Latin-American nations, the 23-country Asian-African group and Scandinavia. The decision, shortly before 1:30 a. m., got 27 seconds' applause.

The Assembly met to deal with Israel's strike into Egypt last Monday and Britain's and France's air and naval actions since Wednesday aimed at occupation of the Suez Canal zone.

The emergency special session was called by the Security Council after British and French vetoes had killed U. S. and Soviet resolutions calling for withdrawal of the Israeli forces.

It was the first ever held under the "uniting for peace" resolution, which the United States got adopted in the 1950 General Assembly to bypass the Soviet veto.

That system allows charges of breach of the peace or aggression to be taken to the Assembly within 24 hours when the veto has frustrated the council.

The resolution adopted by the Assembly noted:

1. That Israeli armed forces "have penetrated deeply into Egyptian territory" in violation of the 1948 Egypt-Israel armistice agreement;

2. That French and British forces "are conducting military operations against Egyptian territory," and

3. That "traffic through the Suez Canal is now interrupted to the serious prejudice of many nations."

Estes Sure Adlai To Be Elected

SHARON, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today Adlai Stevenson's election is assured because "nothing has been done by President Eisenhower for distressed unemployment areas, or for the farmers."

The Democratic vice-president nominee, pressing his party's windup attack on Republican "peace and prosperity" claims, charges that the Eisenhower administration followed a blueprint by New York bankers who Kefauver said regard "hard money" as paramount and "ignored the general's economic commitments to the mass of people."

News Briefs

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — A mysterious house on a wooded hill in Buda was opened today by rebel partisans. They said they found it equipped with a "torture chamber" operated by the secret police. Nationalist ret. said it was believed the villa was used for the brainwashing of important political prisoners such as Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

GYOER, Hungary (AP) — Western men were shown today a secret crematory, said by anti-Communist rebels to have been used by the state police for victims who did not survive their interrogation methods.

DAMASCUS (AP) — The Syrian government today severed diplomatic relations with Britain and France. The action marked a final break in relations with France, which ruled this country from 1920 to 1946 on the strength of a League of Nations mandate.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII has issued an encyclical letter expressing joy for release of Poland's and Hungary's cardinals and asking that prayers be offered for the Holy Land and the Middle East.

Appeals Court Gives Views in Divorce Case

In reversing part of the decision by Judge John P. Case in Inez Lewis' suit from divorce from Earl Eugene Lewis, the Court of Appeals, in a decision filed here Friday morning, said it was willing to submit the question on which it held Judge Case had erred to the state Supreme Court.

Mrs. Lewis was denied a divorce from her husband, who is in the West Virginia penitentiary for one to 10 years for automobile theft, but Judge Case assigned their children to the custody of the Juvenile Court for support and care.

Lewis offered no defense and the hearing was held on the petition by Mrs. Lewis. When Judge Case questioned Mrs. Lewis and learned that she had been guilty of misconduct during her husband's absence, he refused to hear further testimony, denied her the divorce, found that neither of the parents were proper persons to care for the minor children and turned them over to the Juvenile Court.

THE Court of Appeals overruled Mrs. Lewis' contention that the court could not properly hear her and held that it was pertinent for the court to hear the testimony because the "plaintiff must come into court with clean hands."

In reversing Judge Case's decision turning the children over to the Juvenile Court, the Court of Appeals decision noted that "Ohio cases are not in agreement on the power of a trial court, which has denied a divorce decree, to make an order relating to the custody and support of minor children."

Judge Case, after reading the Court of Appeals decision, commented that he hoped that one of the parties would take case to the Supreme Court for clarification.

The children were placed in temporary custody of their paternal grandparents, who live in Adams County.

Three Traffic Cases In Municipal Court

Three drivers were cited into Municipal Court Friday morning for traffic law violations.

One of them, Leo D. Crider, 58, Cincinnati, charged with driving 40 mph in the 25 mph zone on W. Court St., forfeited $10 bond.

Paul H. Brown, 27, Route 3, Mount Sterling, faced the court on two charges. He was fined $50 and costs or having no operator's license and $5 and costs for insufficient brakes.

Clarence E. Freshour, 74, was fined $5 and costs for driving 53 mph on Columbus Ave.

PUCO Orders Phone Firm

To 'Show Cause' Next Week

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio today ordered the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. to show why it should not be ordered to provide emergency telephone service in Portsmouth, New Boston and Scioto.

THESE communities in Scioto County have been without service since Oct. 16 when exchanges were shut down after stoning incidents.

The commission today ordered the company in for a public hearing next Wednesday.

One week ago the commission ordered the company to file a plan for setting up emergency service. Instead, the company challenged the commission's right to make such an order unless the company had a chance to be heard first.

Next week's hearing will give the company that chance. At a meeting Wednesday, the company flatly refused to provide emergency service unless it was assured there would be "ample" police protection.

State Rep. James J. McGettrick (D - Cuyahoga), House minority leader — "The compulsory arbitration proposal 'might be all right.'

As to the strike ban, "I think the Legislature has no business in that field."

State Sen. C. Stanley Mecham (R - Athens), Senate majority leader — "The governor is simply passing the buck. There is sufficient legislation on the books for him to maintain law and order in the state of Ohio, if he honestly wants to. Legislation of that importance requires careful consideration and it could not be resolved in a day or so."

Mecham did not detail what he meant by "sufficient legislation on the books."

ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS

FOR YOURSELF - THEN VOTE:

1. What about your child's future? Can he afford to miss any part of his vital education?
2. Can you afford to neglect providing them with the urgently needed classrooms and teachers for a good education?
3. Can you afford 15 cents per week to provide them with adequate classrooms and a good school program?
4. Can a city and its people progress without good schools?

The answer should be clear—let's

Woman Loses Appeal On Traffic Verdict

Municipal Court jury's verdict finding Dolores Carson guilty of driving while intoxicated was sustained by the Court of Appeals in service 18 days.

A citizens group from Portsmouth had asked for the special session to consider legislation making arbitration compulsory in labor disputes and banning utilities strikes.

Mrs. Carson's appeal, based on her contention that she had twice been placed in jeopardy on the same charge, was overruled by the higher court.

When the defendant was first brought to trial on an affidavit filed Nov. 3, 1954, the jury failed to reach an agreement and the case was dismissed on motion of Mrs. Carson's counsel.

The governor's call for a special session Nov. 9 to ban strikes by utilities and require arbitration of grievances brought these comments:

Stat. Sen. Joseph W. Bartunek (D - Cuyahoga), Senate minority leader — "I think something like that ought to wait until the next regular session in January."

"There is a deep philosophical question involving peoples' rights. These matters should not be settled in undo haste."

Woman Returned Here On Embzelement Count

Margaret Ashcraft, a former resident of Washington C. H., was returned here from Cincinnati Thursday night by Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays to answer a charge of embezzling $45.56 from Violet Blackmore, her employer. The affidavit was signed by Mrs. Blackmore.

Sheriff Orland Hays said she will be arraigned in Municipal Court, probably this week.
